City Spurred Toward Bayshore Annexation

Spurred on by cries of "get moving," the Daly City council Monday night made plans toward annexation of 10,000 acres of industrial Bayshore properties, currently eyed jealously by Brisbane.

The city attorney, city engineer and finance director will prepare a brochure of the legal, engineering and financial aspects of annexation and Daly City officials will then present their case to Southern Pacific officials and other owners of the 12-square mile industrial strip, east of Bayshore freeway.

Attorney Hupf, stated that Brisbane had already established a legal jurisdiction in the annexation proceedings, since they got started first.

However, Tom Bocci, attorney for Bayshore City interests wishing to annex to Daly City, said that Daly City stands a good chance of gaining the industrial properties if they can show that Daly City has more to offer in lower taxes.

He stated that other lands near the Cow Palace could also be considered for annexation by Daly City. The industrial properties of Bayshore, he said, would raise the assessed valuation of Daly City by $12 million.

Chambers Speaks

Frank Martorana, Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce director, repeatedly stated that Daly City's "last chance" was in this annexation for acquisition of industrial properties.

Past president Frank Curry said councilmen should "get off your duff" and get moving on annexation.

Peter Markovich, Chamber of Commerce manager, said the annexation was what the Chamber had always pointed toward.

Vice-mayor Michael DeBernardi pointed out that the priority in annexation has been and still is with Brisbane.

Attorney Hupf said that in order to annex, Daly City would have to submit a report to the county boundary commission, refer a report to the Daly City planning commission, and then the city must circulate a petition which over 50 per cent of the voters must sign.

The city which first acquires jurisdiction, Hupf said, may proceed to its statutory requirements in annexation.

Poor Workmanship Is Charged In Westmoor High Heating System

If you think it's too cold out now, brother, don't complain. Listen to the plight of the Westmoor High School students.

The Jefferson Union High School board of trustees heard Westmoor's weather forecast Monday night in the form of a fact-finding report which charged the contractors of the seven-year-old high school with "poor workmanship."

And the predicted forecast: It will be very warm in the courtroom, but very, very cold up on the hilltop campus of Westmoor.

The survey, by Bounaccorsi and Murray, consulting engineers, reported on the condition of the hot water heating system at Westmoor.

The report, which cost the district $1,326, was at the insistence of the board after it was discovered the hot-water heating system was leaking, resulting in the heat being shut off in the cafeteria.

A. L. Bounaccorsi, representing his firm, told the board that he found the supposedly completely waterproof cover of the iron pipe to be "completely saturated and 75 per cent spent."

"I would not let this problem stay unsolved too long—it is just a question of time before the entire heating system goes," Bounaccorsi warned the board.

He also stated that the survey showed that some 1,685,000 gallons of water had passed through the pipe since being laid in 1957, creating an average of 4,000 gallons per day, or three gallons every minute.

"This is highly irregular—the average should be between 30 and 50 gallons per month," said Bounaccorsi. The resultant discovery means that the closed circuit heating system is losing almost 4,000 gallons of water per day.

He also disclosed in his report that the sub-contractors, the Phillip Carey Manufacturing company, had been warned twice in 1957; once because of substituting material other than what the specific contract called for; and once because the fiber glass emulsions were not totally applied.

Because of the inconsistencies found on the project at that time, the architect obtained from the Carey company a written guarantee which stated that the company would replace the pipe at no additional cost if anything went wrong.

The fact-finding report indicated that the membrane had been ruptured in several places and water allowed to seep in between the protection.

The Daly City personnel board held its last hearing January 10 on the Reginald Calvert case, but announced that no decision would be made for another 10 days.

Calvert, a maintenance carpenter for the city, was laid off last month after four and a half years of service. His job was eliminated in a budget-cutting move.

City manager Ed Frank said the city experienced a fiscal deficit of some $24,000 because salaries of maintenance personnel exceeded the value of the work done.

The Daly City Employees' Union, represented by lawyer Jess Ambrovich, contends that Calvert is entitled to another job.

Grand Opening At St. Francis Square

Barton Development Company presents grand opening this Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the St. Francis Square Shopping Center, located at the corner of St. Francis boulevard and Southgate avenue.

Free gifts, 55 merchandise certificates will be featured. Drawing will be held Saturday, Jan. 19 at 4 p.m. You need not be present to win. Prizes of $50, $25, $10, $7, $5 and $2 will be awarded to lucky shoppers.

The new stores include Nora's House of Beauty, Thrifty Wash Coin Laundry, Lucky 7 Liquor Store, St. Francis Square Barber Shop, St. Francis Dress Shop, Josephine's Gift Shop, St. Francis Heights Pharmacy, Susie's Quality Donut Shop, State Farm Insurance Company, Safeway store, Cristoni Mobile Gas Station, St. Francis Cleaners, The Kiddie Corner and Star Realty Company.

Three DC Firemen Hurt Fighting Blaze

Three Daly City firemen suffered minor injuries fighting a blaze January 11 which damaged a frame house at 768 Niantic avenue, Daly City.

Injured were Maurice Sciaroni, 25, and Dale Chell, 26, who suffered cut feet, and John Martin, 31, who cut his hand. Damage to the house was estimated at $9,500. Cause of the blaze was not determined. The fire was one of three which broke out in a 90-minute period. The others were a minor electrical fire in a restaurant, and a grass fire.

PRODUCE IS THEIR BUSINESS — Joseph Carcione (left), head of Best Fruit and Produce Company and president of the new Golden Gate Produce Terminal, checks a shipment of oranges with Richard Meyerhoff, vice president of A. Levy and S. Zentner Company and secretary of the terminal company. The two executives were instrumental in building the $4,500,000 terminal and bringing the $75,000,000 annual industry to the north Peninsula.

Court Order For Brisbane Thrown Out

The contempt proceedings sought by the Bayshore Sanitary District against the Brisbane city council were thrown out of court Monday afternoon by San Mateo County Superior Judge Frank Rose.

He also refused a writ of review against Brisbane plans to annex 15 square miles of land in the unincorporated area of Bayshore City.

The contempt proceedings were sought by the sanitary district because the Brisbane council passed a resolution to start annexation proceedings despite the granting a few hours earlier of a restraining order against annexation.

The city council of Brisbane, however, rescinded its January 7 action, on the advice of city attorney Conrad Reich, and adopted a new resolution to annex Public hearing was set for February 25.

Council Notes

The Daly City council Monday night:

Approved the extension of a freeways road from the proposed Junipero Serra freeway to the proposed Mary's Help Hospital.

Approved a veterinary "out-patient clinic" for animals in St. Francis Square for B. M. McWhinney, DVM, and Robert W. Disney, DVM.

Adopted a use permit for Pedemonte Properties, Inc., to construct apartments in the Hillcrest subdivision.

Approved business licenses for Ann M. Barsi, public accountant; Jim's Donuts, Nora's House of Beauty, St. Francis Dress Shop, Evarest Silver, Square Barber Shop, Studio (dance instruction), and Westside Stationers.

Approved a low bid of $24,826 for the 1963 resurfacing of streets.

Released the indemnity with Zita Corporation which indicates McKee's liabilities and responsibilities regarding the steep slope on the east side of the homes between 143 and 197 Curran drive.

Accepted a commendation of the police and fire departments from Thomas H. Kunst, 273 Vista avenue.

Westlake Estates Road Is Closed

The Daly City council Monday night announced that the Henry Doeiger Corp. will close the temporary road into Westlake Estates, leading on to El Portal.

The road, according to city engineer William Chapman, was never a public road. City officials last year had problems with this entrance road because of the difficult entry. This northern entry, Daly City officials said, if it was the only entrance into the Westlake Estates tract, would be from San Francisco, leaving all turning movements at the mercy of traffic officials from San Francisco.

Martorana Takes A Strong Stand

"This is really our last chance."

Frank Martorana, director of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce said this to the city council Monday night regarding the Bayshore Properties annexation, now virtually promised to Brisbane by Southern Pacific.

"Make a neighborly deal with Brisbane. At least get some of it," he said.

Martorana said Southern Pacific is interested in annexing with Brisbane because they feel "they can call the shots. From what I understand Brisbane needs many capital improvements."

Frank Facelli, councilman, added that "I question whether it's Brisbane that wants to annex to Southern Pacific or Southern Pacific that wants to annex to Brisbane."

Mayor Joseph Verducci said that Pacific Gas and Electric company interests are in the Bayshore area, along with the Southern Pacific Railroad and a chemical company.

"We have made inquiries to them and have received no indication they are interested in our coming in," Verducci said.

"A sister city has made an attempt to annex. We've got to do what's legally right."

Martorana said "We should do something definite, or Daly City will never be 'greater Daly City.'"

Verducci: "We are not bowing out of the possibility of annexation. But we must proceed by legal means."

"We agree—we have been in constant contact with the Crocker people for 10 years. All they'll tell us is 'We know you're interested. Thank you for letting us know. When we have something we'll let you know.'"

Martorana urged the city to make a "concerted effort to acquire this (Industrial Bayshore) land."

Many things which Brisbane has started, he said, should be challenged.

"Don't be concerned with whose toes we step on. I know the lands that have been declared uninhabited are inhabited."

Martorana said if Daly City misses the opportunity to acquire this area "it means we'll be forever precluded from balancing our tax base. We'll never have a harbor—or any heavy industry."

Peter Markovich, Chamber Manager, said the dream of Daly City residents for a long time, has been to become a city from the Pacific to the Bay.

Blood Donor Day Is Friday

The annual Blood Donor Day in Daly City will be held this Friday, January 18. The Bloodmobile will be at the Westlake School between 3 and 7 p.m., and anyone may come to donate at any time during those hours.

Mayor Joe Verducci, who is chairman of this year's program, is asking every citizen who is physically able to donate, to participate this Friday. Verducci stated that anyone who needs transportation can arrange for it by calling PL 5-0850, Extension 11. He stressed that while it is best to notify the Health

Chairman ahead of time, all you have to do to be accommodated at the Bloodmobile is to appear at the Westlake School on the 18th.

Donors giving blood must be between 18 and 61 years of age, and those between 18 and 21 and single must have the written permission of one of the parents or a legal guardian. They must be in good health with normal temperature, hemoglobin and blood pressure. During the four hours before donating blood, the donor may have only fruit juices, black coffee, tea, crackers or toast (with jam or jelly, but no butter), fruit and leafy vegetables. Blood donors may be any type.

Verducci stated that those who donate blood are giving the most precious gift of all and are providing some security for both themselves and their families. He pointed out that those who do not know their blood type will benefit by receiving that information from the Blood Bank.

Town Hall Meeting On Road Bond Issue

One of the first meetings of citizens to hear the full details of San Mateo County's proposed highway and railroad overpass building program, has been called by the Town Hall Association for Thursday evening, January 24th, in the San Bruno City Hall, 567 El Camino, for 8 o'clock.

Program chairman George Parker of Burlingame will present Paul Reimer, vice president of George S. Nolte, Consulting Civil Engineers, who recently completed a detailed survey of the county's needs. Their proposal is backed up by many photographs and aerial maps showing the 79 highways and 31 grade separation projects which make up the long term program which is divided into three stages, the first of which, amounting to $36,410,000, is to be voted upon by San Mateo County taxpayers in the coming April election.

Included in the first stage, are 23 road-building units ranging in length from 2/10 of a mile to 4 1/2 miles, with costs from $150,000 to $3,900,000. The overpass or underpass number 13 which are all grade separations on the Southern Pacific.

State Highway plans for San Mateo county, which include a number of very controversial freeways, will be presented by J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer. These include Routes 237 and 239, Junipero Serra Freeway, the Willow Road Freeway affecting Menlo Park and Woodside; the San Bruno Freeway, the Half Moon Bay Freeway, the Mission Street-San Jose Avenue Freeway—14 in all.

Of the $35,000,000 expenditures of the first stage for highways and grade separations, over $14,000,000 will go for rights-of-way. Before fixing the $35,000,000 figure, there was taken into consideration an approximate $2,500,000 which San Mateo county now receives annually from the state gasoline tax revenue for roads and highways.

Town Hall Association has had a County Highway and Overpass Committee under the chairmanship of Russell G. Hackett of Burlingame, studying the San Mateo County plan for some time, and they particularly stress the urgency of going ahead with overpass or underpass construction at the earliest date.

All citizens of the county, whether Town Hall members or not, are urged to attend this meeting. There will be a question and answer period following the talks by the county and state engineers. Space in the San Bruno City Hall auditorium is limited so Town Hall officials suggest you come early.

Road Plan Approved

A city-county road plan, in which Daly City this April will be asked to vote on some two million dollars in road improvements, was approved Monday night by the Daly City council.

Proposed for Daly City is a $1,700,000 grade separation at Alemany boulevard with Lake Merced boulevard and Park Plaza drive. This plan would allow free traffic circulation around the Westlake Shopping Center in conjunction with the proposed White street extension of Park Plaza drive with 87th street in Broadmoor. It also ties in with the proposed city project for improving Los Banos and Knowles avenue with one-way street systems.

Another Daly City project includes construction of an extension of Southgate avenue to Junipero Serra boulevard and extension of Sullivan avenue along the west side of the new freeway in order to connect Southgate avenue to Eastmoor avenue. Estimated cost is $700,000.

Produce Sounds

in boxes in small bunches. The day broke cold and clear. The trading had been brisk earlier. Buyers from the big markets had come in swarms and had now, for the most part, left.

These so-called "rebel" produce dealers who created their own $100-million-dollar-per-year business in South San Francisco after splitting off from San Francisco have created 1,000 new jobs.

About 90 per cent of the produce men are of Italian descent—sons and grandsons of the produce men who started with push carts and trucks in San Francisco.

They carry on the tradition of long hours and hard work.

The produce market is pretty dead in the afternoon. Actually, there's no business to speak of after 5 a.m. After their work is done, the workmen come into the terminal's modern cafeteria, sit at the bar and have their favorite drink—a coffee royal. The bar is active, as men come in for that midday "shot in the arm." Funny it is that "mid-day" means anywhere from midnight to 9 a.m.

Heating System

tive covering and the iron pipe.

Its conclusion was that the ruptures occurred during the construction of the heating system and that the cause was a matter of "poor workmanship" on the part of the sub-contractor.

The board moved immediately to present the evidence to the San Mateo County district attorney's office and have him advise on how to solve the matter.

The exact cost of re-doing the work could not be estimated at this time, but the engineers reported that it would be "very costly." It would involve digging up the cafeteria floor, in addition to the line which loops the school.

Yesterday afternoon, JHSD superintendent Edward Morgan sent a letter to the district attorney's office asking "if the district had sufficient foundation for legal recourse and, also, in what manner the district should proceed."

In the meantime, the Westmoor cafeteria has no heat from the system and the entire heating system of the school is threatened.

Boy Critically Burned in Pacifica

Donald Davis, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius F. Davis, 2 Hibbert court, Pacifica, was seriously burned January 9 while cleaning the garage floor with gasoline. The water heater pilot light ignited fumes. The youth was enveloped with fire and managed to smother out the flames by rolling on the lawn grass. He was reported in critical condition at Peninsula Hospital.

POLICE AD GRADES

At the January 10 meeting of the Daly City personnel board, eight ranking officers of the police department were awarded recognition of their successful completion of an in-service training program in municipal police administration. Those taking part in the program were Captain Roy Beecher, Lieutenants John

Walsh, Dave Hansen and Richard Sims; and Sergeants Henry Sundermann, Jerry Galindo, Charles Terry and Matt Murray. In making the awards, John Dye, personnel board chairman, commended the officers for pursuing this program on their own time and initiative and stated that the training will be an asset not only to their careers but to the city as well. The course, which was prepared by the International City Managers' Association, included the advanced aspects of subjects such as organization and management, training procedures, investigative techniques, juvenile delinquency, traffic, vice control, communications, and public relations.

St. Mary's Appeal To Donors Underway

More than 500 leading Catholic laymen from eight parishes in Daly City and South San Francisco will inaugurate the first public phase—the Memorial Phase—of the St. Mary's Cathedral Fund and Archdiocesan Campaign next week.

The men will visit the homes of Catholics in the parishes of Our Lady of Mercy and Perpetual Help, Daly City; All Souls, Mater Dolorosa, and St. Veronica, South San Francisco; Good Shepherd and St. Peter, Pacifica, and Holy Angels, Colma.

They met in a pre-campaign rally last Wednesday, January 9, in the parish hall of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, under the direction of the Rev. Richard W. Power, regional campaign moderator.

Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken explained that the Memorial phase means that donors will be able to select a specific item such as a crucifix or statue in memory of a beloved one or for special intention in making a contribution.

"Having come into your midst only five months ago, it was not my intention to appeal to your generosity so soon," he said. "However the duty to do so has been forced upon me because of the tragic loss of St. Mary's Cathedral by fire."

"And now, since we must build a new Cathedral, it was judged wise by many of you whose counsel we sought, to avoid a multiplicity of campaigns and include the educational and charitable needs of the Archdiocese in one great effort," he stated.

With a goal in excess of $17,000,000, the campaign is designed to provide funds for three new high schools, a college seminary and a home for the aged.

A new high school, Archbishop Alemany High, is scheduled to be built at a site yet to be selected in the South San Francisco-Daly City area.

'Want A Pet?' Feature Starts Next Week

Do you have puppies underfoot? Or kittens in your kitchen? Too many of them?

In fact, if you have any pets for which you would like to find homes by giving them away, you may list them in The Westlake Times and The Record—free.

Starting next week, The Times and Record will begin a new feature: "Want A Pet?" This column will be open to anyone having pets to give away and there will be no charge for the listing.

Send us a postcard or letter describing the pet you have to give away, including your address and telephone number. Each notice must carry these listings so that those who want the pets can contact you directly.

Again, there is no charge for listing pets to be given away. But no pets for sale will be accepted for this column.

Tires, Wheels Stolen

Ray Simonovich, owner of Speedway Garage, 10 - 90th street, Daly City, was reported the victim of the theft of eight tires and wheels, a battery and a car radio. Loss was estimated at $240, according to city police.

Transmission Theft

Gateway Chevrolet, 7400 Mission street, was reported the victim of the theft of a transmission from a 1963 Impala parked in the service lot, according to city police.

Engle Supports Medicare Plan

Senator Clair Engle (Dem.-Calif.) said he and other co-sponsors of the new Medical Care for the Aged Bill plan to introduce the measure immediately following the convening of the 88th Congress.

Senator Engle said this year's Medicare Bill will be substantially the same as the Anderson-Javits compromise proposal of last year. It provides for medical insurance for the elderly financed through the Social Security system.

The California senator said "no one can fail to be deeply concerned over the disastrous effects of the big medical expenses which our older citizens are too often forced to bear."

"As a group, the elderly can neither pay the costs of their illnesses nor are they able to pay the premiums that would be required for adequate protection under private insurance."

"And the evidence shows that inability to meet the high cost of medical care is not confined to just the older citizens who are very poor. Even those who are financially independent are haunted by the fear that a serious illness can wipe out a lifetime accumulation of savings, threaten the ownership of a home, place heavy financial burdens on their children, or, finally, after a lifetime of independence, force them to resort to public or private charity."

"I fully support President Kennedy when he said: 'No piece of unfinished business is more important or more urgent than the enactment under the social security system of health insurance for the aged.'"

Last July, when the Administration's Medicare Bill (King-Anderson) was bogged down in Committee, a compromise proposal was fashioned by Senator Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) and Senator Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.).

Supporters of the compromise version sidestepped the Committee logjam in the Senate by attaching their health care proposal to the House-passed Administration Welfare Bill. The compromise medical proposal then became the Anderson-Javits Amendment to the Welfare Bill and got to the floor of the Senate.

The Amendment was defeated by a vote of 52 to 48 and the Welfare Bill was passed without it.

In the House of Representatives, no Medical Care for the Aged bill—in any form—ever reached the floor for a vote.

First-Graders Take Trip To Dentist's

"Dental Health," a subject of constant importance to all children, took on a new and exciting meaning to the six and seven-year-olds in Mrs. Arlene Byers' first-grade class at Abraham Lincoln. After weeks of class discussion and dramatization of the "care of the teeth," the entire class visited the dental offices of Dr. Stanley Bacon, one of the class fathers, on Tuesday, January 15.

The children were greeted by the office receptionist, who explained to them the meaning of the waiting room and how dental appointments are made. The two dental nurses enlightened the class on their part in the program. Then the dental hygienist demonstrated with a large set of teeth and a giant-sized tooth brush the proper method of brushing.

After this introduction, the class was introduced to the various instruments a dentist uses, and each child had an opportunity to "try out" the chair, the air hose, the fountain and the drills. Dr. Bacon took X-rays of each child's teeth, developed the plates, mounted them on the light screen and explained his findings.

Then came the question and answer period. "Why do you want to be a dentist?" "Why do you wash your hands so much?" "What is a sterilizer?" "What can I do to help keep my teeth good?" Dr. Bacon answered every eager question, explaining to the snaggled-toothed first-graders the care they should

Math Understanding Course Offered At College Of San Mateo

At last a mathematics course that can explain junior's homework to bewildered parents with little or no mathematical background will be offered by the Evening College of the College of San Mateo, beginning Tuesday, January 29.

Based on lectures on the fundamental concepts underlying mathematics without the laborious computational procedures usually associated with the subject, the course will meet Tuesday from 7 to 10 p.m. in room 132 of the Delaware Campus.

The relationship between the "traditional" mathematics of our youth and the "modern" mathematics of our children will be explored and explained. Topics such as sets, logic, relations, functions, and number systems will be discussed at elementary levels.

Designed primarily for the liberal arts program, Math 10 affords an opportunity for students to learn about mathematics by emphasizing those concepts which are common to all mathematics. It is these same concepts that are the basic elements of such programs as S.M.S.G., Ball State, Greater Cleveland, and the Illinois Plan, programs which have been adopted by many local school districts. All were formulated in an effort to make mathematics easier to understand by explaining what mathematics is before specializing in the operation of some single branch of the subject.

While the approach is modern, the concepts involved are several thousand years old and it is these basic concepts that are the subject matter of Math 10. There are no prerequisites for the course. Registration is made with the instructor at the first class meeting and there is a $2 registration fee.

For further information about this or any other of the more than 250 courses available through the Evening College this coming semester, call DI 2-1421.

Restaurant, Tavern, Hotel Pact Reached

The settlement of a new four-year labor agreement between the Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union, Local 340, and the San Mateo County Restaurant and Tavern Owners Association, covering all union restaurants, taverns, hotels and motels and the airline in-flight and industrial catering establishments in San Mateo County, was jointly announced this week by Frank Brock, president of the association, and T. A. Small, secretary-treasurer of Local 340.

Brock said the pact started January 1 and runs through Dec. 31, 1966, with raises in wages ranging from 10 to 16 per cent in various categories, and additional fringe benefits in both vacations and holidays. Brock further observed that these increased labor costs probably will result in a review of the pricing structure in the restaurant, tavern and hotel-motel industry in San Mateo County.

Small pointed out that the raises were necessary to keep culinary workers' wages more in line with those in other Bay area communities. Also, this new wage scale will attract new as well as more qualified culinary craftsmen to the growing San Mateo County food and beverage industry.

New Retarded Child Experiment Launched

A completely new experiment in recreation for the trainable retarded child will be launched in San Mateo County beginning Saturday, January 19. Sponsored by the Parents Association for Retarded Children of San Mateo, and an anonymous donor, the program will offer a series of 20 Saturday morning sessions of supervised games, sports, and other recreational activities according to Mrs. Edward C. Kern, recreation chairman of the Association.

As an initial step into an area that has long been neglected, the new program is being watched with interest by officials in mental health, education, and child welfare services, as well as by many parents of retarded children. William Herbig, Director of Special Schools in San Mateo

County, Glen Smith of the San Mateo County Park and Recreation Department, Mrs. Shirley Sahli, President of the Self-Help PTA, and Mrs. Helen Foley are among the program's sponsors and advisers.

Setting for the 20 Saturday sessions will be the Parents' Child Study Center, 1732 Monte Diablo Avenue, San Mateo, whose facilities have been engaged for the duration of the current phase of the program. Each session will last for three hours, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30, and will be skillfully structured toward the needs and enthusiasms of the trainable retarded child. Transportation will be the responsibility of the parents.

Thanks to the generosity of the anonymous donor, the entire cost of the program for

Serra Vista PTA To Show Film

Serra Vista PTA will present a full length movie in technicolor Saturday, January 19, at the school. The first showing will be at 10:30 a.m. and the second at 1:30 p.m. Admission is 25c.

Refreshments will be sold during the presentation. All children and their friends in the South San Francisco area are invited to attend.

Parents of participating children is limited to a one dollar registration fee, which should be sent to Mrs. Kern, 79 MacBain Avenue, Atherton, along with any questions about the general nature of the series.

D. Webster Dad's Night and Baseball

"Dad's Night," with a focus on baseball, from Little League through professional, is the theme for the January 16 unit meeting of the Daniel Webster PTA. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in the multi-purpose room.

Con Dempsey, Junior High School baseball coach; Edward Montague, the Giant's baseball scout, and a representative of the Better Youth Association, will be the guest speakers of the evening.

All fathers, and mothers, too are invited to the meeting and program by Mrs. Ralph Munovich president, and Mrs. Earl Hall, program chairman. The nominating committee will be chosen during the business meeting.

South San Francisco High

New Home Room Program

The homeroom program at South San Francisco High School is being modified in order to strengthen it, according to Robert Howe, head counselor.

Normally the homeroom is held every day for 20 minutes following second period. Its purpose has been primarily to allow time for student government activities and a general school announcements.

Under the new schedule, each home room period will have a specific purpose.

On Mondays and Tuesdays the home room time will be devoted to counseling students on such matters as scholarship opportunities, college information.

Each home room has an elected representative who attends and participates in all student government meetings.

On Wednesdays, home room time will be devoted to a discussion of student government problems led by home room representatives. The representatives will report to the class and accept suggestions from them to bring back to the student council for possible legislative action.

Thursday's home room will be shortened ten minutes and placed after the fourth period.

A single 45-minute lunch period will follow. Besides lunch, this period will provide for club activities and a lunch time program. The lunch time program will be supervised by students from the Boys' Block, an organization of boys who have earned athletic letters.

Home room will be utilized for rallies, assemblies, and administrative purposes on Fridays.

Howe points out that this

SSF Students Up
On Spelling

Over 25 business students at South San Francisco High School are credited with perfect scores on the National Office Management Association Spelling Test. These students have correctly spelled 300 difficult words chosen because they are frequently used in business correspondence and are often misspelled.

They are: Barbara Breznak, Juanita Candelaria, Dianne Dimmick, Jeanne Ekstrom, Pat Flores, Chris Folsom, Susie Gallup, Carol Ghilardi, Anni Cavalieri, Steve Hamway, Maryanne Nieto, Sharon Pendergraft, Rebecca Ragone, Diane Sue Adams, and Piret Amak.

Others with perfect scores were: Sandra Beldi, Margaret Byrne, Tina Castillo, Rose Jackson, Carole Nunan, Monique Pomeroy, Pat Rossi, Carolyn Threlkeld, Gloria Valine, Terri Young, and Linda Mitchell.

These students are to be congratulated for their achievement and we are very proud of them," said Miss Elva Dinning, teacher.

$15 Bonus Award
A suggestion for improving the processing of military cargo manifests at Fort Mason resulted in a $15 bonus check for a Daly City resident employed at the Army post.

Mrs. Caroline L. Schutt, 60 Westhaven drive, a supervisory accountant with the Pacific Transportation Terminal Command headquarters, submitted the money-winning idea. She is employed in the Command's finance and accounting division.

(In 1950 student enrollment was 5,100; in 1955, 7,800; in 1960, 12,100; and in 1962, it reached nearly 14,000.)

Application for admission by undergraduates and graduates students may still be submitted currently as long as the space is available said Dean of Admissions Donald R. Gerth.

That no student will be turned away who meets the deadline date for admission was emphasized by Dodd who affirmed "we have a responsibility to plan our programs adequately to meet the needs of the Greater Bay Area."

"The fact that a modest number of late applicants were turned away last summer should not be interpreted as meaning that the growth of our campus has come to an end," stated President Dodd. "We are not yet full-grown at San Francisco State. We are a considerable distance from having reached our maximum enrollment. Within this present site we have space and the plans for buildings to increase our enrollment in terms of what has become our normal yearly growth for several years to come."

WESTMOOR GRADS VIE FOR SAN MATEO COLLEGE CLASS OFFICE

Pacific students have staked a claim on the office of sophomore class president for the Associated Students of College of San Mateo. For the first time in the forty-one year history of the College, the class presidency passed from the outgoing leader, Bob Berkowitz of Pacific, to the newly elected soph president, Don Camp, also of Pacific.

Camp, who begins his term of office at the start of the spring semester in last January, is a 1960 graduate of Westmoor High School. A sophomore art major, he plans to transfer to Stanford or the University of California to complete his preparation for a career in art direction or perhaps teaching in his major field. His chief interest is in oil painting, and he has sold a number of his works in Pacific. In addition, some of his paintings were shown at the recent Art Department open house exhibit on the College campus. Camp's previous service to student government has been as a member of the judicial council.

A long-time resident of Pacific, Bob Berkowitz is also a Westmoor graduate, in the class of 1958. Following three years of service in the United States Navy, he resumed his education at College of San Mateo. He is a humanities major and plans to enter the field of public relations upon completion of his college work. In addition to his leadership of the sophomore class, Berkowitz has been the president of the campus Veterans Club, an organization of servicemen attending College of San Mateo. During the spring semester, he will continue to work closely with the student council, with the special aim of promoting community-college ties.

The two Pacificans join two other Westmoor graduates who are active in student government. The top student officer, that of president of the Associated Students, will be held during the spring by Mark Hein, an honor student and a 1960 Westmoor graduate. Robert "Har" Skillman, active in drama as well as in student government, has been selected to the judicial council.

Guidance personnel will tell of opportunities offered at Westmoor to prepare for various fields of work. Students who cannot attend college after high school graduation will find this program of special interest.

Fred Adams, unit president, invites both parents and students to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the PTA program.

Mrs. Louis Picetti, hospitality chairman, and Mrs. Allen Sherman invite everyone to partake of PTA hospitality in the school cafeteria.

J.E.S.D Credit Union
Members To Meet

The Jefferson Elementary School District Employees' Federal Credit Union of Daly City will hold its first annual shareholders' meeting on Wednesday, January 23, at 7:30 p.m., at Abraham Lincoln School.

All interested persons, as well as members and shareholders in the credit union, are invited to this meeting. Only shareholders may vote.

Jack Reidy, California Credit Union League representative, will explain the functions of the credit union. After his address, the election of officers for specified terms in the credit union, will be held. Mr. John Spry, present chairman, will chair the meeting.

The present officers of the JESD Employees' Federal Credit Union are: President, Mr. John Spry; vice-president, Mrs. Geraldine Vickers; treasurer, Mrs. Miriam Davis; assistant treasurer, Mr. Carl Hunter; secretary, Mr. Chas. White.

It takes about 75 to 100 years to grow a tree large enough in the Pacific Coast states to make good lumber, but the same tree can be harvested at 35 years of age to make pulp.

Butler To Represent Westmoor Ad Lib Club At Asilomar Meet

Lectures and night long bull sessions await Westmoor High senior Jim Butler, elected representative of the Ad Lib club to the American Friends Service Committee High School Conference, held at Asilomar from February 23 through February 24.

The weekend conference, which is a discussion of civil liberties, is intended to awaken some 500 Northern California students to existing situations.

Ad Lib, formerly Liberal Arts Guild, encourages impromptu discussion of current topics, which have included communism, disarmament, U.S.-Cuban policy, the Supreme Court Prayer decision, and the federal government's investigation of KPFA.

In addition, club members have attended the plays "He Who Gets Slapped" and "Gallileo" and have heard performances of Baroque and other classical music in the San Francisco State College series.

Following a near unanimous vote, Ad Libbers last Tuesday started work on a resolution supporting racial integration.

New Shoe Store Opens In Westlake

Bloom's Fine Shoes, operated by L. Bloom Sons Company, Inc., of San Jose, will open its newest branch in the Westlake Shopping Center early next month.

The store, which is a part of the oldest family shoe firm in California, will be located in one of the four new stores now under construction on the Westlake Mall, just north of the Bank of America.

Such well known brands of shoes as Andrew Geller, Red Cross, Capezio, Spalding, Selbuilder of the firm between 1900 and 1956, and his son was appointed president of the firm in 1957.

The president organization consists of seven operations: Westlake became the eighth. There are four shoe stores in addition to three leased departments in quality specialty shops and department stores.

An announcement of the opening date of Bloom's Fine Shoes in Westlake will be made within the next few days.

OREGON LEADS

Oregon produces one-fourth of the nation's softwood lumber, most of its Douglas fir, the most widely used of all commercial species.

Special Mass At St. Boniface

Rev. Reginald McDonough, O.F.M., will offer a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving on the occasion of his Silver Sacramental Jubilee in the Franciscan Order of St. Boniface Church in San Francisco on Sunday, January 20, at 10:45 a.m.

Rev. John Cloherty of St. Brigid's Church in San Francisco, cousin of the jubilarian, will be assistant priest. Rev. Edilbert Disch, O.F.M., guardian of St. Boniface Friary, will act as Deacon and Rev. Alfred Boeddeker, O.F.M., pastor of St. Boniface, will be sub-deacon. The preacher for the occasion will be Rev.

Louis Schoen, O.F.M., of St. Anthony's Church, San Francisco.

Friends and relatives of Father Reginald have been invited to a reception from 2 to 4 o'clock on the same day at Forest Hill Lodge, 266 Laguna Honda boulevard, San Francisco. In the evening there will be a dinner for Father Reginald's Franciscan confreres at St. Boniface cafeteria at 7 p.m.

Record Employment For Local Area

Manager William G. Hamilton of the Department of Employment Industrial and Service office, 801 Turk street, San Francisco, recently reported his unit made 15,881 job placements throughout San Francisco, Daly City and South San Francisco in 1964, an all-time high and 33% above the previous record established in 1961.

STILL OLDER

In Oslo, Norway, a celebration was recently held honoring a church built of wood 1,300 years ago and it is even held together with stout wood pegs.

NEW SHOE STORE—Maxwell H. Bloom (seated), president of Bloom's Fine Shoes; U. E. Kendree, managing director of the Westlake Shopping Center; Irving J. Levy, Bloom's vice president, and Henry J. Doelger plan opening of Bloom's Fine Shoes in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Motivation Talk At Pacifica City Hall, Sunday

The Unitarian Fellowship of Pacifica will hear a presentation on aspects of self-actualization by Eugene C. Peckham, founder and manager of Western Training Services, Sunday, January 20, at 8 p.m. in the City Hall of Pacifica. A question period will follow the talk. The public is cordially invited.

Peckham has been engaged professionally in the motivation of others for more than 35 years and has had much experience in volunteer organizations. His professional activities have been as an industrial consultant, adult educator, recreation supervisor and Scout executive. He specializes in presenting scientific materials in simple, understandable ways and has successfully conducted management development programs for various industrial firms, the American Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, the departments of the Army and Navy, and city and county governmental agencies.

LS District Studies Administrative Pay

At the invitation of the Laguna Salada Education Association Finance committee, members of the board of trustees met on January 4 at 8 p.m. at the District Office. A study session was held with members of the finance committee to discuss the district's administrative salary ratio system.

Board members present included Ruth Boudinot, Robert Hale, Betty Geppert and Duncan Burdick. Sub-committee chairman Ken Hill reviewed the ratio system and noted that after careful study the finance committee found this system to be the most equitable system of compensating administrators. In addition long range L.S.E.A. financial goals and the ratio of administrators to total personnel were discussed as well as other possible methods of compensation including a separate administrator salary schedule and individual bargaining.

Hill called for a permanent L.S.E.A. finance sub-committee to annually re-evaluate the administrative salary policy. The finance committee will send its recommendations to the board for its consideration prior to February 1st.

Descendant of John Adams Dies in SSF

John Henry Adams of South San Francisco, great-great-grandson of John Quincy Adams, sixth president of the United States, died January 9 at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in San Francisco. He was 62.

Adams had been ill almost continuously during the past five years following an accident at San Francisco Naval Shipyard, where he worked for 16 years as supervisor of pipefitters. Among his treasured possessions at his home at 149 Lacrosse street, South San Francisco, was the Adams family gold seal ring, brought from England and once worn by President Adams.

SECTION 2

Westlake Times & Shopping News and Daily City Record, January 16, 1967

the winner's circle

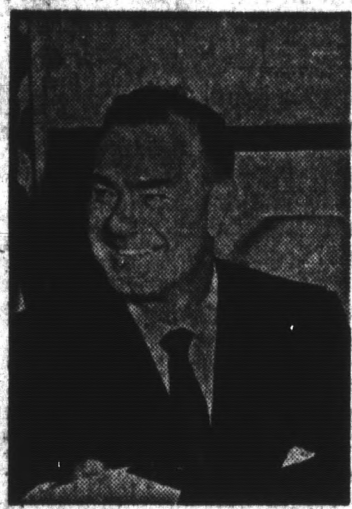

By GARRY NIVER

Daly City Mayor Joe Verducci is back in town this week after spending last week at the NCAA rules Committee meet in the Southland.

The big news of the meet, and Verducci agrees, was the changing of the substitution rule. The new liberalized substitution rule, which allows free substitution, except on fourth down or on a down immediately following a change in possession of the ball. On these latter two downs, the substitution is limited to two players.

Thus, said Verducci, "on all downs other than the two aforementioned and with the clock stopped—except on a discretionary official time out—the coach can have unlimited substitution."

Verducci said that this rule will have three important effects on collegiate football. "First, it teaches players to play both ways; secondly, it avoids the chewing up of time as platoons of players are recorded into the game; and thirdly, it avoids the so-called 'messenger service' employed by coaches to some extent."

JOE VERDUCCI
... likes new rules

Another rule enacted on, which Verducci feels important, is that of making the T-formation quarterback eligible for the forward pass.

"I believe that this will open up the game a little more," said the popular former coach. "If you have noticed any of the recent bowl games on television, with the exception of the Rose Bowl, they seemed to be strictly defensive battles. The defense has caught up to the offense, and this new rule will give the offense a slight edge," the dean of Bay Area coaches replied.

Other rules enacted by Verducci and the coaches were: 1) making head-butting illegal; 2) changing the legality of clipping of an in-motion player in the clipping zone; 3) reducing the number of time-outs per half from five to four; and 4) making leather hand-wraps and any other material on the hand or forearm which is harder than rubber, illegal. This eliminates the gridding playing with the controversial hand or forearm cast.

But much of the above rules are contingent upon the NCAA Council making the rules compulsory in all schools. The larger schools all abide by the rules, but some of the smaller members often apply their own rules.

Verducci and the group sent a letter to the NCAA Council and asked that these rules be made compulsory in all schools, large or small.

Locally the compulsory acceptance of the rule would have an effect only on SF State, the college where Verducci is Dean of Activities. The Gators play in the Far Western Conference and use free substitution rules. If the NCAA makes the ruling compulsory, the Gators would not be able to have their free substitution on the first and fourth downs which they have now.

The other Far Western Conference teams, Sacramento, Alameda State, Humboldt State, UC of Davis, University of Nevada and Chico State, would also be effected by this ruling.

Stanford and Cal both abide by the rulings.

The recent el foldo of the American Basketball League caught everybody by surprise. The loop, which has been on shaky pins since its inception in 1960, was unable to absorb the losses at the box office.

Probably the most surprised of the loop were the players themselves. Back in the Bay Area this week is big Nick Romanoff, the 6-8, 265-pound forward for the now-defunct Oakland Oaks.

"We were in the middle of an Eastern Roadswing when the announcement came," reported Romanoff. "We had no inclination at all," he added. The big fellow had played with the champion Cleveland Pipers the previous year and caught on with Oakland this season after the Pipers folded. Before that he played with the Los Angeles Jets, who also folded.

Romanoff, who did his collegiate playing at University of Pacific, had a no-out contract with the Oaks. Unfortunately, this didn't mean a darn thing when the league collapsed.

So if anybody is thinking on starting a pro basketball team, give Romanoff a ring—he needs the work. And, oh yes, the contract is payable in advance.

NEW PIZZA REDS DOWN OLPH ALLEY CATS IN REC LEAGUE

The new Pizza Reds skinned the OLPH Alley Cats, 43-9, to top the action in the Eighth Grade League last week. Alton Weipah took the spotlight as he scored 15 points. OLPH could never catch up to the height and accuracy of the Reds' Calvert, Smith, Walker, Cassenelli and Lofden, Parodi and Calagari played well for OLPH.

Smarting from their defeat at the hands of the PAL Vultures last week, the OLM Saints came back to defeat the PAL Big Warriors, 31-27. The game started out like a battle. Matt and Mark DeBernardi, Ken Smith and Jeff Long put the Big Warriors out in front the first period.

In the second stanza, the Big Warriors stretched their command to 22-15. OLM made their bid for prominence in the third period as they moved

Coaches Forecast Close NPL Race

The North Peninsula Basketball League opens up this Friday with a race expected to be as close as the shave in the well-known TV sports commercial.

Last week the fans were treated to a preview of the new loop as the six teams squared off in a tournament. The winner, as was predicted, was Tony Giammona's Westmoor cagers.

However, the tourney furnished a few surprises and the outcome wasn't exactly what was expected. In the first place, Westmoor was not an easy victor and they did not square off with South San Francisco in the final game.

The Rams met the surprising Jefferson Indians and barely survived, 39-37, in a thriller decided in the last nine seconds of play.

Secondly, newcomer El Camino, which along with Oceana was supposed to be the doormats of the new league, surprised everybody by finishing fourth and upsetting Terra Nova. What they did on the final night was really surprising. The young Colts, tutored by Gary Kenney, forced South San Francisco into an overtime, and the Warriors barely won out, 39 to 38. Camino led at the half by eight points.

And Oceana, figuring to be the least talented of the side-some, came on in the final night to edge out Terra Nova in another overtime contest.

Giammona summed up the league when he said: "Each team in the league is capable of knocking off the leader on any given night. If the top team is just a little off form and the low team is a little up, there will be an upset. One thing for sure, the closeness of the teams will produce a very interesting league race."

Giammona remarked.

Westmoor plays a practice game this afternoon against Johnny Kane's Mills Vikings in the Ram gym. The Vikes from the Mid Peninsula loop look to be the top team on the entire Peninsula this year following Ravenwood's loss to Carimont. The cagers with a 2-0 record are almost a lead-pipe cinch to grab the Mid-Peninsula League title.

On Friday night the NPL league action gets under way with the Westmoor Rams trekking over to Sharps Park to meet the Oceana Sharks.

Jefferson travels to Linda Mar for an encounter with the Terra Nova Tigers and El Camino goes 14 blocks across town to meet South SF in a game at the Warrior gym. All varsity games start at 8:30 p.m., with the lightweights getting under way at 7 p.m.

In the South SF-Camino encounter last week, Colt coach Kenney was very satisfied with his team's showing. "I think that they showed that they can play basketball—and also that they are capable of beating any team in the league on a given night," said Kenney. Kenney lauded the efforts of slender guard Hal Westmoreland who scored in the double figures all three nights. He also had praise for center Rodney Aguilera who held his own on the boards.

The former SF State cage star gives Westmoor and Jeff the slight upper-hand, but like Giammona, feels that the league will be very interesting and close.

Jefferson coach Mike Orlich was elated over his squad's showing in the championship game against Westmoor. "The tourney got them to grow up—they finally jelled as a club and played some good basketball," the veteran mentor replied.

Orlich had special praise for Steve Willis, Larry Jones and Dan Boden.

Of the league, Orlich expressed the same sentiments as the other two coaches, saying that it "is going to be close." "Nobody is going to wait through this league in easy style," Orlich replied. "We have a very good chance because we have good balance and we didn't reveal all of our attack during the tourney—you might say we are saving ourselves for the league, exclusively," Orlich concluded.

Giammona was also pleased with the showing by his cagers against Jefferson. "Steve Schmuck did a good job guarding Boden, as did center Mike Kelly checking Jones," said the Ram coach.

Kelly, who was high-point man of the game with 17 points, scored the winning bucket. With nine seconds left and the score tied 37-37, Kelly took a pass in the key, wheeled around the Jeff pivot man and laid it up for the winning points. Jeff got the ball and promptly called time out with six seconds left. However, a mix-up in signals and a pressing defense kept the Indians from getting that final tying shot off.

The contest was a thriller from the opening tip-off. Both the first quarter and half ended in a tie. Westmoor grabbed a brief four-point lead in the third quarter, but the Indians came roaring back to tie it up after the outset of the fourth period.

From then on the two clubs went down to the wire like Crimson Satan and Native Diver. First one, and then the other would take command. Westmoor went ahead 37-35 with 1:44 remaining. With 44 seconds left, Westmoor lost the ball on an infraction and three seconds later Boden hit on a tremendous 35 footer to tie the game up 37-37, and set the scene for the hectic finale.

OLM Gaels, PAL Eagles Win Big In Rec League

The OLM Gaels really poured it on the PAL Jaguars, as they swamped them 65-8. Tabori hit 12 points for the Gaels. Other high point men for the Gaels were Gordon (11), Blenchenski (9), Phillips (8) and Becker (8). The Jaguars were never in contention during the game. They failed to score a single point in the first half. OLM led 30-0 at halftime. Haymaker and Goldberg each hit a basket but by then the score was 45-4. Mahood and Hendricks hit two more for a team total of eight points in the 4th, but the Gaels poured 20 more points through the hoop in the final quarter.

OLM had a great day in the 5th grade league as their Dons downed the Holy Angels Lions 19-13. Steve Kadleck and Pat Greene shared high point honors for the Dons with six each. The Dons opened the game with an 11-point spurge in the 1st half. Only Lion to find the bucket in the 1st half was Salzano. Fighting back in the third quarter, Lions Shea, Bernie Price and Salzano cut the Dons lead down to 15-12. Price hit a charity in the 4th but Negle and Greene of the Dons nailed down the lid with a field goal each.

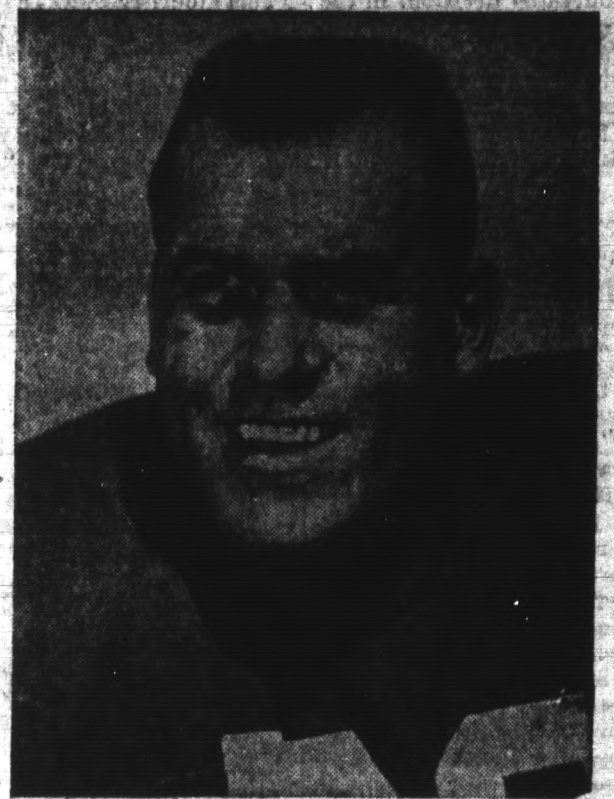

Sharing the spotlight this week with the OLM Gaels were the PAL Eagles. The Eagles did the same thing to the OLPH Bumble Bees that the Gaels did to the Jaguars to the tune of 42-6.

Mike Kosturas took high point honors with 12 points for the Eagles. Eammate Mike Larios was next with eight points. OLPH could do little against the Eagles. Denning was high point man for the Bumble Bees with three points.

Fernando PTA to Hear Grid Coach

The Fernando Rivera PTA will hold a Father's Night on Tuesday, January 23. Mothers are also welcome. The program starts at 7:30 p.m. D. Hernandez, physical education co-ordinator for the Jefferson Elementary School District, and Via Rowan, football coach at San Francisco State College, will speak on the "Key to Physical Fitness." Members of board members will be the hosts for the evening.

LEO NOMMELINI

TV, Gridiron Stars At Pacific Market

Pacific Market in Winston Manor Shopping Center January 19 will have in person TV personality Captain Satellite and 49'er football stars Leo Nommellini, Abe Woodson and Monte Stickle.

Captain Satellite will greet his friends from 1 to 3 p.m. ket.

Captain Satellite was recently honored when the air force commissioned him an honorary captain.

Football fans can meet their heroes and be treated to autographs and pictures from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at Pacific Market.

HIGH JUMPING

Jefferson Forward Larry Jones goes up high to snag a rebound away from an Oceana Shark in last week's tourney opener. Jefferson retained this type of advantage the whole contest to prevail 45-29.

Sixth Grade League

Israel Knights Edge Warriors

Sixth grade play opened this week with a real battle between the Sherith Israel Knights and the PAL Little Warriors, with the Knights winning 23-22. Ron Hackett, Mike Mitionich and Steve Kirby took the Little Warriors out in front in the first quarter to a 9-6 lead.

The second quarter proved to be a defensive battle as the only person to find the basket was Don Strauss of the Knights with a charity. Ray Schrock, Ron Hackett, Tom Belvin and Mike Mitionich poured 11 quick points to take the Little Warriors ahead 20-11. Strauss of the Knights suddenly came alive and tanked 8 big points in quick succession, making it 20-19. This effort coupled with a bucket by Barry Gervetz and Al Newman, stunned the Little Warriors with a 23-22 win for the Knights. The only Warrior hitting the bucket in the fourth quarter was Ray Schrock. Don Strauss was high point man with 11 points. Teammate Gervetz collected 10 points.

In other action the PAL Vikings climbed all over the PAL Jets 37-7. Gary Clardella hit six field goals for 12 points for the Vikings. Teammate Joe March contributed 10 points. Orlich, Hector, Campos and Picardo also helped the Viking cause with points.

BYA Bender Roofing Cats came up with a surprise win in their league opener over the Holy Angels Colts, 28-23. Joel Carrara was the big man for the Cats with 12 points. Abe Shaffer tanked nine points for the Cats. The Cats went out in front in the first quarter and stayed until the final buzzer in this 28-23 win. Timmy Dillon sparked a Colt 4th quarter rally but could not catch the high flying Cats.

A stubborn OLPH Hilltoppers fought an uphill battle against the OLM Hawks, losing 33-27. Unfortunately, the combination of Steve Roche and Russ Hampton was too much for them. Roche hit 14 and Hampton 10. Guidice was high for the Hilltoppers with eight.

JR. HIGH LEAGUE

The Ben Franklin White Falcons broke the ice this week for their first league win, downing the BYA Hotshots, 28-10. Star of the Falcons was George Garber with 10 points. Helping out Garber was Mike Smith with eight points. This was the Hotshots' second loss.

BYA Aero Motors edged out the MHR Chiefs 21-20 in an overtime game. Gary Stang collected seven points for BYA.

Steve Green and his OLM Angels gave the hoops a workout in their game with the BYA Matadors. Green tallied 15 points in the game. Ewing, White, Feeley and Figueroa all hit well as OLM defeated the Matadors 38-16.

The New Pisa Blues came from behind in a big 4th quarter to squeeze by the PAL Bears, 22-17. New Pisa led at the half by one point 8-7. The Bears rapped out eight quick points in the third quarter to go ahead 15-13. Chan, Tong, Hanson and Horn of the Blues found the groove and overtook the Bears for league win.

Fred Garcia, Matty Russo and Jon Goodin laid waste to the OLPH Golds in a 41-4 route. Garcia, Russo, Goodin, Schrock, Nappi, King and Hampton hit the bucket with regularity as the PAL Wildcats overwhelmed the OLPH Golds. Garcia was high point man with 10 points.

Bob St. Clair Recovering In St. Mary's Hosp.

Daly City councilman and San Francisco 49er tackle Bob St. Clair is on the mend at St. Mary's Hospital following a recent operation for a strained Achilles tendon.

The 49er front office reported yesterday that "the operation was a success and it is now just a matter of recovery."

The office declined to comment on whether St. Clair would be healthy enough to play football next year.

Look Out, Boys! A Girls' Track Team At West.

Females take to the great outdoors as a result of the recent organization of girls' track and field course at Westmoor High School.

Offered track curriculum for the girls consists of the 50 and 75 yard dashes, standing and running broadjumps, and relay races. Field events include softball and basketball throws-for-distance.

Miss Darlene Keith, Westmoor P. E. Instructor who organized the course states, "A track and field course was started because we feel it builds up the endurance of the participants and is an enjoyable sport."

As a reaction to and result of the new course, popular demand from the members of the Girls' Athletic Association has scribed track and field events on the list of activities for the spring semester.

Cub Pack 63 in Softball Tilt

Pack 63 of Westlake will play a double-header exhibition softball game with Pack 161 of San Francisco at Leiland Park in San Francisco on Sunday, January 20, at 2 p.m. Boys will meet at Westlake Park at 1 p.m. for transportation to the game.

On Sunday, January 27, Pack 63 will host the second double-header of the series. Pack 63 plays in the West of Twin Peaks Softball loop and the team is in need of a sponsor. If anyone is interested, they may contact Perry at PL 5-8508, Biagiotti at PL 6-0565, or Abbott at Plaza 6-4972.

Employees' Assn. Meets At A. Lincoln
The California School Employees' Association, Jefferson Chapter No. 233, held its 1st meeting of the new year January 8 at Abraham Lincoln School.

Mr. Rung Hasselgren, regional representative, installed the following officers for the year: President, Mr. John Jensen; vice-president, Mr. John Scott; secretary, Mrs. Mary Vigan; treasurer, Mrs. John Bowers; sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Ralph Bright. Past-president is Mr. Francis Peter.

Phonovisual Game
The five kindergarten classes of Abraham Lincoln have begun their daily game of phonovisual. This method of teaching consonant beginning sounds to five and six-year-olds was first introduced in the kindergarten classes in February, 1962, and proved so popular and profitable that it is being continued in 1963. Many teachers from other schools in the district as well as from other districts, and interested parents have visited the daily classroom demonstrations.

SSF Adult School Secretary Class

Anthony C. Pelgrino, teacher of typewriting and general business at South San Francisco High School, will teach a class in secretarial techniques featuring advanced typewriting and production techniques in the use of the electric typewriter, for the Adult Education program at South San Francisco Adult Education School.

Class begins Monday, February 4, at the South San Francisco Adult School. The class will feature intensive use of the newly developed Selectric electric typewriter in relation to its use in modern day business. Included also will be the business letter, tabulated reports, rough drafts, organization of work materials, and in the development of proficiency in producing and handling various types of business communications.

This course is designed for typists, secretaries, and professional personnel in the "re-training" of the use of the standard typewriter, using IBM's newest electric typewriter.

Registrations will be accepted by phone at the Adult School Office after 6:30 or by calling at the office, 400 B Street, South San Francisco.

Daniel Webster Vista Mar School

The third grade students at Vista Mar are about to begin a new unit in the social studies area of the curriculum which should prove to be most enjoyable, as well as very profitable in their learning processes.

A very complete, up-to-date unit called "The Greater San Francisco Bay Area" has been prepared through the cooperative efforts of the Bay Area County Superintendents and the curriculum personnel of these counties, and is now ready for use in the thirteen counties which have adopted it for use in their schools.

A few of the study areas are: "The Geography of the Bay Area," "Wild Life in the Bay Area," "Historical Beginnings of the Communities," "Transportation and Communication," "The Importance of Bay Area Ports," "The Importance of the Electronics Industry," "The Salt Industry," "The Flower Industry," "Commercial Fishing Industry."

After being introduced to this new unit, the children will be able to help plan some interesting study trips to learn at first hand about the areas they are studying in their classrooms.

San Miguel PTA Meets Thursday

"Focus on Home and School" will be the theme of the San Miguel PTA meeting Friday, January 18, at 12:15 p. m. in the school auditorium at San Jose avenue and Seneca.

Speakers will be Miss Sweetney and Mrs. Howard. The topic will be "General Buzz Session."

Mrs. Raymond Brodek, president, will preside at the meeting.

Washington School Awards Assembly

Steven Kirby presided over the assembly Friday, January 11, for the George Washington Elementary School. Principal Fred Schweickardt read a thank-you-gram to the student body from the Red Cross, after which he presented the athletic awards for the noon intra-mural league to the following:

Girls' fistball, won by Mrs. Leslie Crew's fifth grade Golden Bears; touchball also won by her boys; the sixth grade fistball won by Mrs. Younga Hennessey's Alley-cats; and the boys' kickball won by Jim Hough's Cool-cats.

Dennis Huajardo was introduced to present the physical fitness program to the student body. The film, Youth Physical Fitness, was shown to portray the possibilities as outlined by President Kennedy's administration for emphasis in the national fitness program.

Star Realty Opens At St. Francis Square

Clement W. Adams and Walter J. Strauss bring many years of practical experience to their new business at Star Realty Company, St. Francis Square.

Adams is married and resides with his wife and small son, Paul, at 49 San Juan avenue in the St. Francis Heights area of Daly City. Thirteen years a real estate broker and salesman, Adams is a native of Massachusetts, owning and operating his own realty firm in that state.

He was for three years associated with the Dave Wiseman Realty Company at 2644 Judah street, San Francisco, as salesman and branch manager.

During the past year, Mr. Adams has been associated with the Saxe Realty Company.

Strauss is also married and resides with his wife, Joyce, and two children, Nancy and Stephen, at 56 Capay Circle in South San Francisco. His business background includes eight years in the casualty lines of the insurance business with American Fore Insurance Group and the Home Insurance Company.

For the past four years, Strauss has been a very able and successful member of the Saxe Realty Company in San Francisco and Daly City. He is a charter member of the recently formed Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce; an officer of Skyline Lodge of the B'nai B'rith and a member, with Mrs. Strauss of the Westlake Chapter of the City of Hope.

Clem Adams and Wally Strauss pledge to the public in Daly City and suburban areas the very best real estate service possible. They added that "we ask for, and hope to merit the confidence of all."

Local Men Serving With Marine Unit

Marine Private First Class Joseph F. Fay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Fay, 7880 Mission street, Colma; Marine Lance Corporal James V. Van Winkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Winkle, 539 "P" street, Colma, and Marine Private Lonnie D. Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bryant, 370 Second avenue, Daly City, are serving with the First Battalion of the Ninth Marine Regiment aboard an amphibious ship of the Seventh Fleet.

The battalion boarded the amphibious units at Okinawa on December 8 to take its turn as the special landing force of the Seventh Fleet. The force is a vital element of American seapower abroad.

Under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Robert B. Allen, the battalion will engage in landing exercises, demonstrations and routine training during its tour of sea duty, which will last about two months.

Airman R. E. McGee Reassigned to Miss.

Airman Basic Ronald E. McGee of South San Francisco, is being reassigned to Keesler AFB, Miss., for technical training as a United States Air Force radio and radar maintenance specialist.

Airman McGee, who completed the first phase of his military training at Lackland AFB, Texas, was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes.

The airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. McGee, 88 Highland avenue, South San Francisco, attended South San Francisco High School prior to entering the service.

NEEL CRISTONI'S Mobil Service station has been in business one year in St. Francis Square. His station features a good supply of automobile parts with two mechanics on duty from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. Cristoni is a native of San Francisco and has been in this business 20 years. An Army veteran and member of Masonic Order No. 517 of San Francisco, he resides at 99 Midvale with his wife, Miel, and three daughters, Josie, Gerry and Melele and also has a married daughter, Sharon (Mrs. Manny Hirschel) and a granddaughter and grandson. Cristoni is one of the original organizers of the Westlake-Broadmoor Teen Club and is outgoing president of its adult advisory board.

Cub Pack 347 Plans For Boy Scout Week

The first outing of the year for Cub Scout Pack 347, Our Lady of Mercy Church, included a tour of the Presidio and Army facilities. Lunch was served at the base. The tour was arranged by Col. Wrockloff (retired), father of Fred Wrockloff of the pack. Frank Carroll coordinated all details.

The pack is busy making arrangements to participate in Boy Scout week scheduled for early February. As part of their participation, the boys will display and advertise their activities in a window in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Cubmaster Bill Upp has completed arrangements for the Pack's first annual communion breakfast to be held on Feb. 10. Additional details will be given at the pack's next meeting in the parish hall Feb. 1 at 8 p.m.

State Employee Retire Funds May Be Used In Mortgage Buy

Funds of the State Employees' Retirement System may be used in purchasing mortgages which are to be serviced by the seller, ruled Attorney General Stanley Mosk last week.

The system processes the pension contributions and benefits of 300,000 state, county, municipal, district and university employees. Its fund totals $1,600,000,000, all of which is invested in bonds. Approximately $20,000,000 is contributed monthly into the fund by its members.

The System's Board of Administration is considering a proposal to invest monies in obligations secured by mortgages and deeds of trust insured under the National Housing Act or guaranteed by the Veteran's Administration. Under the proposal the board would purchase insured or guaranteed loans secured by mortgages or deeds of trust. The bank would service the loans, including collection of principal, interest, tax payments, assessments and insurance, and maintain the necessary accounting and trust accounts. For this service a yearly fee of not more than one-half of 1 per cent would be charged against the unpaid balance due.

The bank would handle all procedures such as forwarding monies to the System or, at the option of the board, apply it to purchase of new loans. Foreclosure proceedings would be conducted by the bank's legal staff.

While the Government Code gives the System's Board of Administration the control of the administration and investment of the monies, there is no specific authority designated for entering into a service agreement of the type involved in this proposal.

"It is the rule that where the law does not prescribe the means by which a result is to be accomplished, any reasonable and suitable means may be used," states the opinion. The board is required to place all money received by it in the State Treasury. If the money is to be reinvested, new warrants could then be drawn, the opinion declares. It also states that statutory regulations require the documents to be in the custody of the treasury and not the servicing bank, which is understood to be acceptable.

The question of civil service provisions prohibiting the state from utilizing independent contractors in the performance of "functions which could be satisfactorily performed by civil service personnel" was considered. "The arrangement here is neither novel nor designed to evade the civil service law," states the opinion. "The retirement system is simply investing its money in a manner which conforms with accepted business practices and one that is presently used by one of the counties operating under the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937."

Daly City Marines Serve in Caribbean

The following Marines: Cpl. Stanford D. Carman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Carman of 122 Westdale Ave., Daly City; Sgt. John D. Haaland, son of Mrs. C. Haaland of 121 Park Plaza Dr., Daly City; and Marine Private First Class John F. DuPre, son of Mrs. Gertrude King of 337 Knowles avenue, Daly City, have returned to Camp Pendleton, Calif., after serving with the Fifth Marine Expeditionary Brigade of the United States quarantine forces in the Caribbean.

The unit arrived in California on Dec. 16, two months after embarking in 20 amphibious ships and passing through the Panama Canal. The combined Navy and Marine Corps force leaving the Pacific Coast was 18,000.

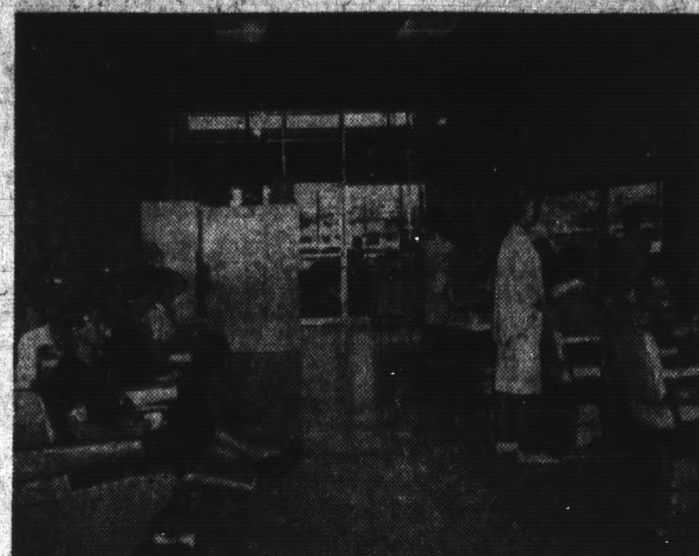

The force spent 51 days at sea and visited ports in Puerto Rico, Jamaica and Panama.

Although it has no direct control over other agencies that serve the visually handicapped, the American Foundation for the Blind provides them with professional advice and assistance on request. Last year it made its resources available to over 450 agencies in work for the blind throughout the United States.

Roberts Rules Direct Meetings

Everybody who has belonged to an organization of any kind is more or less familiar with "Robert's Rules of Order," the little book that rules the meeting. But who was Robert, the man who wrote it? Some great lawyer, college professor or political leader? Guess again. Henry Martyn Robert, who authored the famous "rules" was a soldier, a West Pointer from South Carolina and an engineer officer who rose to brigadier general and chief of engineers. He also headed the board of engineers that planned the great seawall at Galveston. But the great achievement of his life, as Tom Mahoney relates in "The Peace-making General," an article in the January issue of the American Legion Magazine, was his successful struggle to write and publish his rules of order. These are the essence both of democracy and good manners; abide by the will of the majority; listen to the minority; consider one thing at a time; give everybody a chance to talk; keep discussion impersonal. He recognized the need for such a book as a young officer when he had to preside at a story church meeting a century ago this year in New Bedford, Mass., during the Civil War. But he was so busy mapping roads in the west and building lighthouses on the Great Lakes that 13 years passed before he could get his rules together. Turned down by all book publishers of the day, he had the first edition printed at his own expense and gave many of the copies away. But his faith was amply justified. Somebody is about to buy the two millionth copy of the little book! Would-be authors to whom publishers are cool may take some comfort in this.

Jr. Teen Member Drive Ends Friday

The initial drive for membership in the junior teen clubs formed for seventh and eighth grade youth living east of Junipero Serra Blvd. ends this Friday night at each of the three clubs.

These programs sponsored by the Daily City Recreation Department have completed their initial organizational steps and with this meeting will have selected a club name, elected permanent officers and will have made preliminary plans for club activities. An announcement of these officers elected will be made soon.

Students living east of Junipero Serra Blvd. may still join these clubs at this Friday's meeting. Application forms are available at Colma Junior High School and the Recreation Department office. Initial membership fee is 75c. Membership sales will be reopened March 15 for a two meeting period.

Youth representing the three clubs at the council selection party held last Saturday evening, January 12, at the War Memorial Community Center were as follows:

COLMA No. 2 — Jim Francis, Sonja Alvarez, John Alva-

Westmoor Thesians Present Program

Westmoor High School's Little Theater was filled December 18 as novice actors of Robin Jackson's drama class presented their first special after-school program.

Taking scenes from "The Sound of Music," "First Lady," "Rebecca," "Stage Door," "I Remember Mama," and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," students presented the result of their work on scenes.

Including costumes and stage props in their study and presentation were Barbara Kramer, Bob Post, Stef Winter, Margaret Nigel, Terri Gustafson, Sutton Doeg, Evelyn Goodell, and Vicki Holmgren.

Other ingenues included Stef Singer, Ann Southland, Terri Medrano, Charlotte Peck, Paula Hoyt, Linda Loftus, and Maria Misuraca.

Additional students worked in other areas to make the presentation a success. Pam Altman served as house manager, properties were handled by Kathie Seifenrich, and the stage crew included Sharon Finnegan, Wendy Warfield, and Flip Reade.

Continuing their work in projection, interpretation, and characterization, students are now anticipating the presentation of a complete play next semester.

Westmoor High School Readies '63 Yearbook

Designed to provide a bit of nostalgia in the years after graduation, Westmoor High School's 1963 yearbook, featuring candid photos and color photography, is being readied for the press.

December 15 saw the first quarter go to press, and the end of each successive month will mark the deadline for one of the other three sections.

The yearbook, which sold 1,110 copies, will include short stories, spot color, more art work, and a variety of other features. Introduced this year is the use of "ghosts" — the superimposing of one picture over another, revived in the use of exclamation points. Featured will be Westmoor's successful athletic teams and Swedish foreign exchange student, Helena Frissell.

Co-editors of the yearbook are Ann Tilly and Virginia Maclean, art editor is Mike Flanagan, and his assistant is Mary Jane Pate, who are responsible for the layout design. Aiding production editor Chris Tierney is Jean Green, and Penny Huff will help "lay-out" editor Gary Davies.

In charge of boys sports is Bill Burghart, who is assisted by Jim Fischer, while Frances Rodgers will cover girls sports.

Handling feature pages will be Jeff McDaniel and Janice Conn, and class editor Lynda Brown will work with assistant Clarence La-Rossa. Photography editor this year, as last year, is Jim McDaniel, aided by Mike Dirickson.

and in the planning for the next series of meetings. Each club will meet the second and fourth Friday evenings of the month.

Organizational items and activities scheduled for each club's planning include selection of permanent officers and committees, choosing of club names, adoption of constitution and by-laws, and the development of a master calendar of activities.

Youth can still join these new clubs for the next three meetings. Membership is open to any 7th or 8th grade student living west of Junipero Serra Blvd. who lives in Daly City — Colma — Broadmoor.

Application blanks are available at San Francisco Junior High School. Initial membership fee is 75c with a 10c admission charge for each activity.

This program is the second phase in the newly expanding program for junior high youth under the auspices of the local recreation department. Members of the JR-Teen Club sponsored by the Daily

Terra Nova Students Hear 'Folk-Singers'

By Betty Morrison

A Christmas assembly was held at Terra Nova Friday, December 14. It featured a group of "Guatemalan Folk Singers" (actually Ken Kirkland, Storm Gorman, and Bob Mull) who were hilarious. They won first prize at the Talent Assembly last year and their repeat performance was every bit as good.

Also featured were Sue Adams singing "White Christmas," and a skit by the juniors on the meaning of Christmas. They acted out the meaning for businessmen, shoppers, children and then the true meaning of Christmas was read, under muted lights, from St. Luke. The band played, the choir sang, and the student body joined them in singing four familiar Christmas carols.

That evening, under blue lights and mistletoe, the Junior Dance, "Reignite to the Stars," was held. It was a lovely dance and well-attended.

is selling school presents. They are black with yellow letters spelling out Terra Nova. The large size has our official Tiger emblem on one end. They come in two sizes and sell for $5.50 and $4.50, or one of each size for $10.

City Recreation Department are reminded that beginning tonight, no one will be admitted to teen club activities without a picture affixed to his membership card.

Pictures may be turned in at the door with the membership card for those who have not had their pictures laminated into their cards.

New membership cards are sold the first Wednesday of each month only. Pictures for cards are also taken at this time.

Members who lose their cards may be admitted to club activities only after contacting the club adviser, Ron Madernaga, at the door. Replacement of cards is 50c plus a new picture.

Pacific Women To Meet Jan. 22

The Pacific Federated Women's Club will hold their first meeting of 1968 at 8 p.m., January 22, at the Terra Nova Library. Edna McDonald, program chairman, will show two films. The first will be on wildflowers, presented by the Redfield Oil Co. It will be shown in color and offers many beautiful scenes. Next will be a 16-minute film on the March of Dimes. The business meeting will follow.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

In an impressive ceremony last Friday evening public installation was held for Bethel 198 International Order of Job's Daughters at Crocker Masonic Temple in Daly City.

The local group was founded way back in March 1950 with sixty charter members. Throughout the years the organization has grown rapidly with many girls participating. To be eligible to join girls must be related to Master Masons and between 12 and 20 years of age.

Officers include five elective and fourteen appointive. For their meetings the officers wear graceful white Grecian robes.

Among activities of the group is social events, sports trips (scheduled for March is a snow trip to Longhorn) and mystery tours. In addition the group also contribute to a scholarship fund and philanthropic projects. This coming year they will devote time and service to the Shriners Crippled Children Hospital. Last term they worked for the visually handicapped.

The new elective officers installed include Susan Kishner, Honored Queen; Linda Knox, Senior Princess; Janice Keith, Junior Princess; Evonne Felch, Guide; and Fredrick Klemm, Marshal.

All the girls were lovely in pastel formal. Honored Queen Susan Kishner wore a full length embroidered nylon organza in yellow and white, dramatic with tiers of ruffles down the back.

"A beautiful dream made real."

"A dream of the past come true"—so read the first two lines of a poem on the first page of a souvenir program of the Golden Gate Bridge dedication. Writing poems is only one of the many hobbies of our busy community leader who we are saluting this week. Among her prize possessions, two personal letters from Mrs. Sarah Roosevelt commenting on the poem. She has also written for greeting card concerns and various magazine publications.

Besides her hobbies she is a dedicated community worker. She organized and was first president of the women's auxiliary of the Daly City Fire Department, and is also a past president of the auxiliary of No. 4 Volunteer Company. She was a charter member and officer with the Eagles Auxiliary 848. She served as an officer of the Colma PTA, was on the Daly City 50th Anniversary celebration committee as well as working on all community fund drives.

In addition to her organization activities she and her husband have been foster parents to many youngsters.

We salute Virginia Alexander our community leader of the week. Virginia, husband Wayne and daughter Susan, live at 207-37th street in Daly City. Their other daughter, Gail, is married.

SOCIAL WHIRL: Off to a flying start in the new year is the Daly City Newcomers Club. Ramona Birke, Director, who held a luncheon last week at Westlake Bowl. Green palm leaves and brilliant red roses graced the tables. Guest speaker was Mrs. Thomas Brewer of the Daly City Friends of the Library. Also attending as special guest was Mrs. Hoke S. Garrison, president of the library group.

If you are a new resident in the area, do jot down the date February 12 for the next affair by the group, a Valentine party luncheon with special entertainment a "Fun fashion show." Reservations are required, telephone PL 6-7178, PL 6-3828, or PL 6-6169.

FASHION NEWS: Always right on her toes as far as the latest fashion trends are concerned is maternity fashion expert Fern Warner. In keeping with her progressive outlook she has come up with a most original idea—a maternity trunk showing. In her shop (Jan. 18, 19) will be two manufacturers representatives with a complete spring line of casual, sports and dressy maternity wear. Expectant mothers can select their new spring wardrobe from a wonderful range of high fashion clothes in just the style, size and color they wish and have delivery in approximately two weeks.

There will also be informal modeling and valuable door prizes. The store will also be open until nine o'clock on Friday evening so do plan to drop by.

NEWS BRIEFS: A gala sendoff for Jon Alexander who joined the Navy for two years. He was honored at a surprise party given by Carolyn and Ray Monks and Jon's sister, Jane Alexander, and held at the Monk's home in St. Francis Heights.

Master-of-ceremonies was Westlake Penney's Manager Don Davis at a dinner held last Saturday night in Palo Alto honoring retiring manager C. H. Swanson. Mr. Swanson was Don's manager when he worked in the San Jose store.

Motoring down from Sacramento last week were former residents Marian and Howard Stites for an evening of bridge with the Jack Kendrees and Jack Hurts. The Stites stayed with their son, Hal, in Westlake.

Important coming date for the small fry is Jan. 19 when the Children's Ballet Theatre will present "Peter and the Wolf" and "The Feast of the Spider" (reservations WE 1-9777).

Guest speaker at Immaculate Conception Elementary Mother's Guild Jan. 22 meeting will be Mrs. Francis Lolselle, R.N., who will discuss the role of the public health nurse. Plans for the coming Feb. 26 Mardi Gras fashion show will also be discussed.

The next monthly book review of the Daly City Friends of the Library (Jan. 24) will feature Mrs. Kathryn Goodart from Milbrae Public Library reviewing two recent books.

Daly City resident Bill Powers will be one of the square dance callers at the coming folk and square dance festival to be held in Kezar Pavilion, San Francisco, on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 20.

Thanks again for your many letters. Do keep us informed of your coming social events, parties, weddings, house guests. Write Feminine Viewpoint, Westlake Times, 3317 San Jose Avenue, Daly City.

TWO THOUSAND invitations are addressed and ready to be mailed announcing the advent of the Westlake Catholic Women's annual fashion-show luncheon, as shown by Mrs. Robert Walker and Mrs. William Murray. With the theme "La Vie En Rose," the event will be staged in the Grand Ballroom of the Fairmont Towers on February 8. Mrs. William Murray and Mrs. Paul Churchwell are reservations chairman; and have announced that tickets at $4 each will go on sale in the parish hall on January 24. Proceeds will benefit the Our Lady of Mercy Westlake building fund. (Photo by Charles Blagdon)

Gloria Mattson Becomes Bride Of Robert Sperber

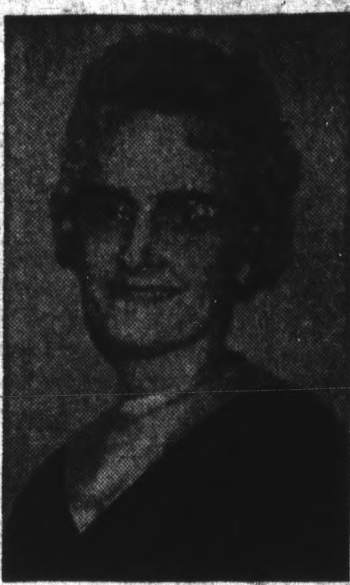

At home in South San Francisco are the recently wed Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Sperber who were married, appropriately, on Beethoven's birthday in December.

Mrs. Sperber is the former Mrs. Gloria Mattson, teacher of organ and piano at the California Institute of Music. Her new husband is the director of the Institute.

The young couple were married at the Berkeley home of the Rev. Dryden Phelps, a long-time friend of the bride. Miss Carol Schmida of San Francisco served as maid of honor and Abe Bernstein of Los Altos was best man.

For the wedding, the new Mrs. Sperber selected a street-length sleeveless frock of blue brocade, with a bell-shaped skirt. Her fingertip veil was of matching blue.

Gloria is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Phil of Minneapolis. She is an honor graduate and former member of the teaching staff of MacPhail College of Music in Minneapolis. She is currently completing her work for a masters degree in music at San Francisco State College and has participated in public concerts.

Her husband is the son of Mrs. George Sperber of New York City. He attended St. John's College in Maryland and the California School of Fine Arts and Crafts.

Evie Trost's Engagement To Earl Carlock Revealed

Passing the traditional box of sweets to her sorority sisters at the University of California's Phi Mu house in Berkeley recently was the newly engaged Evelyn Frances Trost. Her fiancé is Earl Everett Carlock of Richmond.

Evie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Trost of 901 Southgate avenue in Westlake. She has selected June 2 for her marriage at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in San Francisco.

The bride-elect, who is employed by the Richmond Social Service Department, attended George Washington High School. She was graduated from UC in 1960 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Welfare. She is a member of the permanent class council of that year.

Earl's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton C. Carlock and he is the twin brother of Clinton Carlock of Crescent City. His sister is Mrs. Donald Wilson. Major Wilson is attached to special forces with the U. S. Army in Okinawa.

The bridegroom-to-be was graduated from Richmond Union High School in 1954 and furthered his education at Contra Costa College, where he was affiliated with Beta Rho Upsilon fraternity. He is employed at Ortmann's Ice Cream Manufacture in Albany.

The future Mr. and Mrs. Carlock are planning to live in Berkeley after their June altar date.

Y Art Class Still Open

There is still time for children to register for the new YWCA Saturday morning art classes, held in Westlake. Classes for boys and girls from 5 to 10 years old are scheduled from 10 to 11 a.m. at Westmoor Park Clubhouse, and children from 10 to 13 years old will be scheduled from 11 a.m. to 12 noon in the same location. The cost of each series of five lessons is $5, plus a small amount for supplies.

According to instructor Peg Penoyer the purpose of the younger children's class is to develop an interest in art and to encourage those children already interested to develop further in the field. Basic principles in composition and color will be taught with the use of both black and white and color. Students will be encouraged to develop their own creativity while learning some of the basic simple techniques of artistic representation.

Directed experimentation in composition and use of color will be used to develop standards by which the children will be able to judge their own work, and to appreciate other artistic works.

The class for older children will cover basic drawing, use of simple perspective, shading, composition, and work in color. Students will learn to handle various techniques in the media of charcoal and tempera, and to apply the technical information to these media.

Registration and requests for further information should be directed to the Y Office, 375 South Mayfair, PL 6-7370. The last date for registration for this series is at the class on Jan. 19.

Old Glory Auxiliary

To Hold Benefit Lunch

A benefit luncheon by the Ladies of Old Glory Auxiliary, VFW No. 2044 of Daly City, will be held at 12:30 p. m. on January 22 at the Spreckles-Russell dairy at 1717 Mission street in San Francisco. Donations of $1 will go toward the group's cancer research fund.

The Old Glory Auxiliary sewing group met January 8 at the home of Leona Kester. The group is making handwork to be sold for the relief fund.

The Junior Girls unit of the group met at the Daly City War Memorial building recently and made plans for 1963 activities.

Toni Galli Will Wed In Oregon

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Galli, former residents of Daly City now living in Grants Pass, Oregon, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Toni, to Stephen H. Benson.

The young couple have not yet selected a date for their marriage.

Miss Galli is a senior at Grants Pass High School. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Benson of Grants Pass and was graduated from Grants Pass High in 1961. He has attended Shasta College at Redding, Calif., and is now studying general business at Southern Oregon College in Ashland, Ore.

Guest reviewer will be Mrs. Catherine Goodart, of the Milbrae Library, who holds a librarian's degree from Columbia University.

Mrs. Goodart will review two books: "Sandpebbles" by Richard McKenna, and "Hatchet Men" by Richard Dillon, the Sutor librarian.

Coffee and child-care, as usual, will be provided through the generosity of the management of the Westlake Bowl. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

80 Days Around The World A Reality For Ethel Hahn

By Bunny Gillespie

"Eighty Days Around The World" is a literary masterpiece by Jules Verne, a thrilling motion picture produced by the late Mike Todd and an exciting reality for Mrs. Ethel Hahn of 327 Willis street in Daly City.

Mrs. Hahn is the beloved principal of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. She is back at her administrative duties after participating in a tour and meeting organized by the World Medical Association.

The tour covered the period from Oct. 6 to Dec. 24, 1962, and touched 21 major ports-of-call.

Modes of transportation during the 80-day jaunt included camel, elephant, sampan and ricksha as well as the more traditional conveniences.

The services of local guides using accented English were employed, through arrangements by the Lissone-Lindeman travel offices.

The company also arranged for all land transportation on the itinerary, including motorcoach or local steamer; all lodging and most meals; tip, taxes and transfers and sight-seeing. Air transportation was planned by Pan American World Airways of SF.

The meeting was held in Delhi, India, during the second week of November.

Mrs. Hahn traveled to India with a group of Bay Areaites, shepherded by Dr. John D. Humber of Parkmerced. With the SF physician and Mrs. Humber were Californians from Santa Rosa, Merced, Modesto, SF and Upper Lake—17 in all. Mrs. Hahn was one of the 10 women traveling to the Medical Assembly's General Convention, an adventure that afforded her not only a treasury of memories but several notebooks well-filled with information jotted, many times, "on the run."

Leaving SF International Airport on Oct. 3 with limited baggage, an over-sized handbag and "every shot given," the local educator spent a day in NY and then departed by PAA for Lisbon, Portugal, where she was to enjoy three days of the "most glamorous accommodations" of her tour.

Her group was escorted through customs inspection and transferred directly to the Hotel Ritz, where Mrs. Hahn found the service "perfect" and the dining room "elegant"—serving strictly a "best bib and tucker" repast. Here she was served cold consommé centered with soft-boiled hard-cooked egg, ringed by pimiento filled green olives, a gourmet dish that went unequaled during the remainder of her jaunting.

Arriving Oct. 9 in Madrid presented a view of the city named by Phillip II in the 16th Century as the capital of Spain. Mrs. Hahn and her co-travelers visited the National Palace and toured the Prado Museum. A side-trip to Toledo brought them to the home-town of El Greco and the church displaying his "Burial of the Count Orgaz."

After Paris and the Folies Bergere, Sorrento was visited, with an excursion by steamer to Capri and the Blue Grotto. Out of Naples, the Pompeii ruins were viewed en route to the plane that would whisk the tourists over to Rome for a 3-day stay.

In Athens, the group was quartered at the Hotel Grande Bretagne and the Acropolis came under their surveillance. After dinner aboard a British European Airways plane, they arrived at Istanbul, Turkey, where the Bosphorus of Leander and Lord Byron lore commanded the view.

Of no less interest was the Mosque of Sultan Ahmet (Blue Mosque) with its six minarets. Blue tiles line the interior of this "world's largest" mosque. Nearby was the celebrated St. Sophia, considered a masterpiece of Byzantine art. Completed around 535 AD, it is now used as a museum for Christian and Mohammedan art.

In Cairo the Hotel Nile Hilton provided view rooms of the pyramids. Here, too, was land deemed "most barren" by Mrs. Hahn, with animals foraging in areas arid.

Adventures in Egypt included an excursion to Old Cairo and Giza with its Sphinx and Pyramid of Khufu (Cheops). It was here that the touring group boarded "ships of the desert" and watched in wonder as their white-turbaned guide fulfilled a boast to ascend and descend the ancient pyramid's slope in 7 minutes. His sprint took him to a height of 470 feet in "5 minutes up, 2 minutes down." "It was worth the tip," Mrs. Hahn reported.

After Cairo and touring the impressive ruins of Luxor and Karnak, where the huge Hypostyle Hall covers 54,000 sq. ft., the group moved on to the Valley of the Kings where King Tutankhamon's tomb was found.

Going north by plane and private car, they headquartered in Beirut, Lebanon, from which they visited the Syrian capital of Damascus, which is said to be the oldest city in the world. Here were seen the hospitable Bedouins, colorful bazaars and the 8th Century Omayyad Mosque housing, supposedly, the head of John the Baptist.

From there the travelers planned to Jordan's Jerusalem, and viewed the Mount of Olives and Bethlehem.

"Yes," said Mrs. Hahn, "Even a stranger feels the tension in Jerusalem."

Here is the land of the Bible, and here, too, is the Mandelbaum Gate where our tourists passed through the no-man's land between the Jerusalem of Jordan to the Jerusalem of Israel.

Leaving Jerusalem, the group visited the ancient cities of Tiberias, Nazareth, Haifa (where they saw the Carmelite Monastery and the golden-domed Bahai shrine), and Tel Aviv with its burgeoning cultural center, and then were off to Teheran, Iran, where their sight-seeing included the multi-mirrored Gulistan Palace, which houses the ceremonial peacock throne.

Next, off to Pakistan and its capital city, Karachi, with the open-air tomb of the "father of Pakistan," Quaid-i-Azam Mohammed Ali Jinnah.

Going NE to Lahore and Peshawar, the tourists entered Kipling's bandlands country and ventured into the "terrifically guarded" Khyber Pass on the Afghanistan border. The historic tunnel dates back some 2000 years before the birth of Christ.

However, the day was approaching when the World Medical Assn. was to convene in Delhi.

The Californians neared the security zone along the frontier bordering Pakistan and India with luggage in hand and traveling shanks mare. They presented passports, complied with control formalities and entered Amritsar where their chartered Indian Airlines plane waited.

WSCS Plans Bargain Sale

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Wesley Methodist Church will hold a "bargain sale" on January 19 in St. Francis Square, Southgate and St. Francis boulevards.

This is part of a fund-raising drive and will feature new and used items such as new shoes, clothing, toys and knick-knacks.

The sale will be held in the new store next to Safeway. The store was donated by T.R. Wehrenberg, Northern California manager of the Benjamin Franklin stores.

The sale will be from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and the public is invited.

Holy Angels Whist Party

Holy Angel's Women's Guild will hold a whist party tomorrow at 12:30 p. m. in the parish hall. The donation is 75 cents.

Coffee and cake will be served and there will be other card games for those who do not play whist.

The proceeds of the whist will go toward the fashion show expenses.

Chairman for the whist is Mrs. Tullio Picchi, PL 6-0685, and co-chairman is Mrs. Louis De Salvatore, PL 5-0553.

Buri Buri Club Looks to Future

With the burst of energy a new year gives, the Buri Buri Woman's Club program title at tomorrow's meeting is "South San Francisco in 1990."

The meeting will be at 8 p. m. in the Buri Buri Community Methodist Church.

Presenting the program is Mrs. Anita Robertson, former housewife and mother, now working in the planning office of the South San Francisco city administration, who will also discuss the history of South San Francisco and its government functioning.

Standing committee chairmen who will report are Mrs. Lenton Peak regarding the coming rummage sale, and the dinner dance chairman, Mrs. John Lescher. Department chairman also will announce their group's philanthropy.

Chairman of the hostess committee for the meeting is Mrs. Kenneth Brown. Other committee members are Mrs. David David, Mrs. Edward Gulbrandson, Mrs. Edward Laurel, Mrs. Kenneth Morris and Mrs. Lenton Peak.

SFS Faculty Women To Hear Dr. Keaton

Dr. Morton Keaton, associate professor of psychology and noted lecturer, will speak at the January 18 meeting of the Women's Faculty Club of San Francisco State College in room 217, physical education building, at 8 p. m. Dr. Keaton's topic will be "Parents' Survival Through the Ages."

Husbands and guests of members will be welcome at the evening meeting. Mrs. Gerald White and Mrs. Fred Webster will serve as hostesses for the meeting.

WOODROW WILSON PRINCIPAL Mrs. Ethel Hahn, shaped plaque set in floor (second from right, kneeling) marks spot where Christ was visits the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem, Star.

New Bethel No. 26 OJD Officers

New officers for Bethel No. 26, International Order of Job's Daughters, were installed Friday evening at the Mission Masonic Temple.

Honored queen-elect Jo Ella Bogner received the gavel from retiring queen Darlene Richards, who served as installing officer. Hostess for the evening was Nancy Henderson, junior past honored queen.

Other officers installed were Maria Escalambre, senior princess; Emily Wicklow, junior princess; Boydene Wales, guide; Julia Ann Yap, marshal; Pamela Wood, chaplain; Barbara Hendrickson, recorder; Gloria DeZordo, librarian; Nancy Eisenmann, musician; Linda Nelson, treasurer; Donna Watson, outer guard; Joelyn Podesta, inner guard; Donna Ray, senior custodian; Charlotte DeLoach, junior custodian, and Susan Shoef, Ann-britt Baring, Marilyn Anderson, Kathy Kovach and Kathy Wicklow, messengers.

Guardian for the Bethel is Mrs. Betty Klotz. Associate guardian is Joseph Podesta.

Jeff's 1962 Couple To Wed In Feb.

Jefferson High School's "Couple of the Year" for 1962 have selected Feb. 2 for their wedding date.

The prospective bride is Lorraine Storm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester D. Storm of 744 Niantic avenue in Daly City. Her fiancé is Jim D. Jameson, the son of Everett Jameson and the late Mrs. Jameson of 644 Sierra Point road in Brisbane.

The young couple will be married at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church with a reception at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the 5:30 p.m. ceremony.

For her maid-of-honor, Lorraine has selected Carole Benson. Bridesmaids will be Arlene Day, Judy Allen and Diane Starkovich, all of Daly City; and Paula Cozby of Mountain View. Linda Hebert, the bride-elect's cousin, will serve as flower girl.

Jim will have his brother, Everett Jameson, Jr., as best man and Lorraine's brother, Leroy Storm, as an usher with Pete Bell, Darwyn Hansen and Stewart Sibley.

Jim is currently serving with the United States Air Force as an airman third class assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls, Texas. Following their marriage, the future Mr. and Mrs. Jameson plan to live in Sacramento, since Jim's service commitment will take him to McClellan Air Force Base.

While at Jefferson, Lorraine and Jim belonged to the Teen Club. He was a member of the frosh-soph football team and she served as a cheer leader. In her junior year, Lorraine was president of her class. The couple were graduated in June of last year.

At the first International Congress on Technology and Blindness held in New York, many experimental aids and devices for use by visually handicapped people were demonstrated. The American Foundation for the Blind, sponsors of the Congress, hopefully predicts that many of these aids will be made available in the very near future.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

One of the most entertaining television programs to come along in many a blue moon was previewed by the Bay Area press in a special screening arranged by KGO-TV last week.

Hosted by Henry Fonda the coming television program contains scenes from 75 motion pictures, most of them Hollywood classics.

Running the gamut from comedy to war movies the program covered such film classics as "Best Years of Our Lives," "Love Finds Andy Hardy," "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and many others. Some of the film footage has never before been seen on television.

The date for the coming show over ABC, KGO-TV is Jan. 23, 7:30 p.m. Do tune in, we're sure it will revive memories.

Like to talk over the telephone to interesting people? Now is your chance and you'll be heard over television besides. KGO-TV has come up with a most unique and unusual program titled "The Last Word" featuring Les Crane in a television-telephone interview program. Special interesting guests are featured also and viewers can talk to them. Heard every weekday at 1 p.m. the program is an hour long. We wonder if this isn't just a bit too long, although personable Les Crane has managed so far to keep it moving. Time will tell.

TV DATES TO JOT ON CALENDAR: Three important dates over NBC, KRON-TV, "The Bob Hope Christmas Show" filmed highlights of 18,000 mile tour overseas entertaining GIs will be telecast Jan. 16, 9 p.m.; "Telephone Hour" (Jan. 18, 10 p.m.) in color will feature Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians; "David Brinkley's Journal" (Jan. 14, 10 p.m.) visits unfinished Brasilia in special colorcast.

KPIX has scheduled another in excellent "Intertel" documentary series titled "Tahiti-Pacific Cocktail" covering the exotic land of Tahiti.

New book review program premieres over KQED on Jan. 14, 7:30 p.m. titled "Bookman's Choice." Also new series on Channel 5 "The Red Myth" (Tues. 7:30 p.m.) study of communism.

Excellent series over KTVU, (Jan. 15, 8:30 p.m.) titled "Parole" documentary recording actual hearings of California parole boards.

Calling Bridge Buffs . . .

For Thursday Girls "It's In The Cards"

"It's In The Cards" is the slogan of the annual YWCA bridge luncheon scheduled for February 7 at the Westlake Bowl.

Part of the regular monthly "Thursday Girl" series, this special February luncheon will start at 12 noon and will feature card games until 3 p.m. or later. The cost of the affair is $2, which includes free nursery service for pre-school children.

During luncheon, items for gift-giving, party accessories, and home decorations will be displayed by Richters of Westlake's shopping center. Ideas for St. Valentine's Day and springtime redecorating will be offered.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Lewis Johnson of Westlake, who is co-ordinator of the YWCA Friday Bridge Club. Her co-chairman will be Mrs. Perry Bookend of Pacific, who acts as co-ordinator of the Y-Bridge Club in that area.

The chairman urges the card players in North San Mateo County to make up a table for bridge, canasta, rummy, pedro, whist or any other popular card game, and plan to attend the luncheon. Each table should provide its own cards.

Advance reservations are necessary and may be made at the Y office, 375 South Mayfair, Plaza 6-7370. Further information and help with filling in tables may also be obtained at the Y office.

Pacific Squares

Howdown Scheduled

The Pacific Squares Dance Club of Pacific will hold its third anniversary Howdown on Saturday, January 19, from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

Callers for the dance will be guest caller Dick Houlton, and club caller Jim Wylie. Live music will be furnished by the Ranch Hands, who are fast becoming the favorite band of square dancers.

The dance will be held at the National Guard Armory, located at Third Avenue between Bayshore and El Camino Real in San Bruno.

Public Invited To Ct. St. Mary Whist

Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold its annual January public whist this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Our Lady of Perpetual Help auditorium.

Co-chairman, with Mrs. Wettstein, is Mrs. Warren Steinbach. Clothes will be shown by one of Daly City's newest ladies' ready-to-wear stores in Westlake, "The Fashion," and modeled by members of the court.

Other chairmen named at this time are Mrs. Una Mae Kulik, door prizes and donations; Mrs. James O'Reilly, main raffle; Mrs. Attelo Minaletti and Mrs. Fred Wettstein, programs.

Plans are progressing on schedule for the evening fashion show, "Carnival of Fashions," sponsored by the court and scheduled for February 7 at 8 p.m.

According to Mrs. Charles

Wettstein, grand regent, locale of the show will be the Our Lady of Perpetual Help auditorium.

Anyone interested in making a reservation may call Mrs. Thomas Glynn at LO 4-1350. Price is $2, including tax.

Y-Wives To Hear Int. Decorator

Women in the community are invited to jot down on their calendars "Monday, January 21" for the second program on interior decorating presented by Lillian Kersner, from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the Westlake Bowl's banquet room.

Miss Kersner, at the previous Y-Wives meeting, introduced many of the latest ideas on colors, color schemes and planning. Furniture arrangements and floor planning will be the next topic of discussion on Monday.

Miss Kersner is the proprietor of San Francisco's Jackson Square "Lillian Kersner Interiors and Designers" shop. She was head decorator of two of San Francisco's leading department and furniture stores. In many public schools, she has taught in the adult education program.

Miss Kersner soon will be conducting a series on interiors at evening classes for Galileo High School and for the P. T. & T. employees.

For nursery service, coffee, tea, and facilities, a 50 cent fee will be collected by Elsie Dab, secretary-treasurer.

A special field trip on January 28 pertaining to "home fashions" is being planned by the YWCA's coordinator, Eleanor Raymond and president Norma Washford. Information on this outing will be furnished soon.

Parent Education Talk Will Be Heard By

Mater Dolorosa Ladies

Mater Dolorosa Women's Club's regular monthly meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the parish hall.

Main speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Donald Oswald, archdiocesan chairman of parent educators group of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Feature event of the evening will be a silent auction. Coffee and refreshments will also be served.

Film to Be Shown At CBPWC Meeting

The Christian Business and Professional Women's Council will hold its first monthly dinner meeting of 1963 on Monday, January 21, promptly at 6 p.m. on the third floor in the Women's City Club, 465 Post street.

Rev. Bill Mansdoerfer, business administrator of KEAR, will be the inspiration speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Davis of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph will show a film on "the proper use of the telephone."

Music will be provided by Elinor MacAdam, violinist, accompanied by Jean Hazlett.

All business women are cordially invited and may bring their friends. For reservations, call MO 4-1517, or just come.

DC Sailor Aids In Cuban Quarantine

D. C. Hillman, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hillman of 222 St. Francis Blvd., Daly City, was serving aboard the amphibious command ship USS Eldorado while she was part of the United States quarantine forces in the Caribbean.

The Eldorado returned to San Diego, Calif., on Dec. 15. She is a unit of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force, a major element of American seapower at home and abroad.

She was one of more than 20 amphibious ships with 18,000 Navy men and Marines aboard called into action from the West Coast.

Mission Adult School HS Diploma Courses

Adults wishing to take courses leading to a high school diploma may register at Mission Adult High School, 18th and Dolores streets, beginning Monday, February 4, at 6:30 p.m.

These evening classes are geared to meet the needs of those adults who have not completed high school and also those who wish to learn basic skills. Completion of the prescribed course of study will enable the adult to receive an accredited high school diploma from the San Francisco Unified School District and will prepare the individual to take competitive Civil Service examinations.

Airman Assigned to McCoy AFB, Florida

Airman Third Class Brian H. Markus of Daly City is being reassigned to McCoy AFB, Florida, for training and duty as a cook.

Airman Markus recently completed United States Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas.

The airman, son of Mrs. Betty V. Markus, 28 Third Avenue in Daly City, attended Jefferson High School prior to entering the service.

TOP SPOTS FOR DINING AND DANCING

PARA LA MEJOR COMIDA MEXICANA AL NORTE DE LA FRONTERA . . . EL TOREADOR

Jesse and Carmen Lepe, owner-chefs of the El Toreador Restaurant at 50 West Portal Avenue, San Francisco, learned the art of preparing authentic Mexican food in the country of its origin. Born and raised in Guadalajara, Mexico, both Jesse and Carmen first started cooking in their family homes, learning the fine art of spices and seasonings one associates with real Mexican fare.

Four years ago, having worked in some of the finest restaurants both north and south of the border, the Lepes ventured into business for themselves, opening their present establishment and christened it appropriately enough, the El Toreador.

Having one of the largest menu selections of any Mexican restaurant is a feature pointed to with pride by Jesse Lepe, who also claims to serve some original Mexican recipes prepared by no other restaurant.

The El Toreador features a very fine and complete wine list of both domestic and imported wines. What could be more delightful than dining on Mexican food and imbibing Spanish wine in the candlelit atmosphere of the El Toreador.

The restaurant is open every day except Monday, from 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday hours are from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Luncheons, complete, begin at $1 and complete dinners start at $2.25. For those who wish to eat at home, they also feature food to take out, neatly wrapped in aluminum foil containers to keep it as fresh as the minute it was prepared.

For Mexican food at its finest, visit the El Toreador and wine and dine in the romantic atmosphere of Old Mexico.

Druids To Honor Charter Members

Recessa Circle 117, United Ancient Order of Druids, will have its annual birthday party tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Swedish American hall, 274 Market street.

On this night, the charter members are honored.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. Chairmen for the evening are Cora Janik, archdruidess, and Minnie Lino, past grand archdruidess.

Columnist to Speak

To 'City of Hope'

The next meeting of the Singleton Chapter of the City of Hope will be held at the Seven Hills, 26 California street, at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday, January 22.

Guest for the evening will be Jack Rosenbaum, one of the star columnists for the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin. There will be dancing and refreshments. Guests are cordially invited to attend. There will be a nominal donation.

Produce Group Gets Reprieve
Produce merchants awaiting completion of the new Islais Creek wholesale produce center in San Francisco got a break when the Bay Area Water Pollution Control Board postponed for another six months its deadline for starting construction of a downtown sewage treatment plant.
If the board had enforced its January 1 deadline, the produce merchants would have been ousted from their stores to make way for the treatment plant construction with no place to go. By July 1, the new deadline, the Islais Creek center is expected to be ready for their occupancy.
Meanwhile, the produce merchants who pulled out of the Islais Creek venture to open their own center in South San Francisco, ran into trouble when they started charging unloading fees of from $2 to $5 on each truckload of produce brought to the center.
The trucks promptly applied to the State Public Utilities Commission for permission to charge higher rates to absorb the fees.
Under a program administered by the Library of Congress, the American Foundation for the Blind records books and other literature for distribution to blind people throughout the 50 states. Last year the AFB recorded more than 200 different titles of books in its Talking Book series.

Something For Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

At least one fourth of the signers of the Declaration of Independence saw their homes ransacked and destroyed by the British Army or British sympathizers. Five were captured by the British and held as traitors. One was driven from his home and lived in caves until one of his thirteen children brought him knowledge of his wife's death. Then, though seventy years old, he joined Washington's army as a private.

This information and much more comes from a small book entitled "Republic USA" by Cromwell Gibbons. In this colorful volume one finds the picture of each president of the United States, a resume of his life and a quotation from his papers.

Here is the quote from John Adams: "I must study politics and war, that my sons may have liberty to study mathematics and philosophy." Here is one from Grover Cleveland: "Our nation lives in us—in our hearts and minds and conscience. The land we live in seems to be strong and active. But how fares the land that lives in us?" And here is one from Theodore Roosevelt, whose realism has characterized the Twentieth Century: "Take all Americans I like big things; big prairies; big forests and mountains; big wheatfields, railroads and everything else. But no people ever yet benefited by riches if their prosperity corrupted their virtue."

The first section of "Republic USA" contains a capsule-sized history of each state, gives its capitol, the date it entered the union and pictures of its flag and flower.

It also includes a picture history of American flags, and national anthems. There is a map of the United States and copies of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence.

Surely this book is valuable as a quick reference for students of American history.

IT'S NEWS TO VETS

Q—I have moved and left a forwarding address with the local post office. Will my GI insurance dividend due in January be forwarded?

A—Yes. Postal regulations now permit the forwarding of your dividend check.

Q—I understand a new law provides for GI Bill education and training for peace-time veterans. What should I do to find out if I am eligible to take advantage of this?

A—If you have a service-connected disability, you should register as soon as possible with your nearest Veterans Administration office for an appointment with a VA counselor. This is the required first step.

Q—I am a Korean Conflict veteran. How much longer do I have to apply for a GI home loan?

A—The minimum deadline for Korean Conflict veterans is January 31, 1965, and the maximum deadline is January 31, 1974. For all dates between the deadline is governed by the individual veteran's length of active service.

SAN FRANCISCO'S VISITORS PAY DIVIDENDS LOCALLY

San Francisco's stepped-up convention and visitor promotion program paid big dividends in 1962, not only to the city but to surrounding areas, according to a year-end financial report made by the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau.

The bureau calculates that the combined spending of convention and tourist visitors in the city came to $111,814,900. Of this total, $51,371,800 was spent by 385,000 persons who attended 4,799 conventions, trade shows and special events in the city during the year. Another $60,443,000 came from non-convention tourists.

Tourist visitors left an additional $50,000,000 traveling around the nine-county Bay Area and it is reasonable to assume that the convention visitors also spent a substantial sum in this peripheral area although the bureau did not estimate it.

Other areas of northern and central California shared in this bonanza as the travelers wended their ways to and from San Francisco from the state borders through the various gateways to the Bay Area. Many travelers traversed the Redwood Empire and the Sacramento Valley en route to and from the Seattle World's Fair which the bureau credits with a large portion of the ten per cent increase in tourist business.

San Francisco's activity in this regard, stimulated by a new hotel tax and contributions from the city's businessmen, helps spread prosperity throughout the area.

Social Security Representative To Speak In DC

Lawrence Shaw, Fraternal Order of the Eagles, Daily City, announces that a representative for the district Social Security office will speak on Social Security benefits at Eagles Hall, 3344 San Jose avenue, in the near future.

Shaw reported that the speaker will inform the people as to their rights under the program. The representative will especially emphasize the qualifications of old-age social security.

Lipreading Course

Lipreading courses for beginners and intermediates will be offered by the San Francisco Hearing and Speech Center, beginning January 14.

Classes will be held for 12 weeks on Monday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. They will be conducted by the center's staff and will be held at 2340 Clay street in the Presbyterian Medical Center. Enrollment is limited to 15 students.

The Good Old Days Of Auto Buying

Depressed by the bumper-to-bumper blues, you might some day find yourself wishing for the good old days when cars were fewer and farther between. But don't do it, advises the National Automobile Club. Like most good old days, the good old days of motoring just weren't very good at all.

Suppose you did find yourself back in the noisy nineties, clutching your money in your wet little palm, and eager to buy yourself one of those newfangled horseless carriages. About all you could buy then would be a steam carriage, which amounted to an old buckboard with the shafts cut off, four rubber-tired wheels, and a power plant under the seat. And that power plant seemed to have a strange propensity for either soaking you with water vapor from time to time or blowing you higher than the proverbial kite.

And the car you got would be little more than a stripped-down chassis. If you wanted a top, windshield, side curtains, battery, or tires, you'd have to go out and buy these on your own. Then you were ready to go, almost. If your trip was going to be more than 20 miles, you had to get out your tools, your kit of spare parts, and your maps, and lay your plans like an attacking general. Then you put on your furlined overcoat, hauled on your heavy woolen gloves, tight-fitting rubber-lined cap, and oversize goggles.

Away you went, and so did most of the loosely fitting parts of your new car. Junk dealers followed you at a respectable distance, to pick up the bolts, bars, and broken axles that bounced right off.

If you wanted to warn the junk dealer that you were about to turn or stop, there were no signals. A lot of the time there were no brakes, so you just headed for the nearest bank, tree, or other solid obstacle and brought your journey to a crashing conclusion.

If a tire went flat, there was no demountable rim, no spare. You just took that tire off, repaired it, then blew it up with a wheezy pump that got about one pound of pressure to one hour of pumping.

Had enough? Probably. But don't forget the charm of these flickering gasoline headlights that hardly let you see where you were going but did offer some feeble warning to pedestrians and cows that you were thundering towards them at your top speed of 15 miles per hour.

Back to those bumper-to-bumper blues?

Chrysler-Plymouth Sales On Increase
Chrysler-Plymouth reported sales of 12,235 units, which it said was a gain of 45 per cent over the same period of last year. The total included 8,741 Plymouths and Valiants, 3,017 Chryslers and 477 Imperials.

Inventory days-supply figures moved up substantially during the first half of December, due mainly to the slackened selling pace.

Pontiac continued to be low at 24½ days, and Chevrolet dealers had only a 25-day supply of standard models at mid-month.

Ford Galaxie stocks, which had also been short, moved to a 27-day supply at the current selling rate.

FORDS 1963½ MODELS

Fastback hardtop styling is featured in new 1963½ models announced today by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company. Shown above is the new sporty Falcon Sprint Sports Hardtop, powered by a 260-cubic-inch V-8. The Sprints have qualified for the famed 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye, which begins January 19 in Monte Carlo, Monaco. In the top-of-the-line Ford Galaxie, the aerodynamically styled fastback sports hardtop (lower) offers an optional 427-cubic-inch engine, the most powerful ever produced by Ford. These new cars, plus four other sporty models, will go on sale in U.S. Ford dealerships in February.

Seventy Pounds Per Car...

Aluminum Use Up In '63 Models

Use of aluminum in 1963 automobiles will exceed the average 5 per cent per car annual increase maintained by aluminum in the last 15 years, John Blomquist, vice-president, Reynolds Aluminum Sales Co., reports.

He said preliminary figures from an industry-wide survey establish a fraction more than 70 pounds of aluminum per car as against the 1962 figure of 64.5.

"This better-than-traditional increase will stand despite the withdrawal of Tempest and Chrysler engines," he said. "These blocks represented less than four-tenths of one per cent of the more than 500 million pounds of aluminum consumed by the industry in the production of 6,686,730 cars in the 1962 model year."

"Furthermore, current rates of production of aluminum engines by Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, Buick and American Motors will show an industry increase of aluminum for this purpose."

He said a major portion of the increase in 1963 models comes from the continuing conversion to aluminum of automatic transmission cases, bell housings and extensions from their cast-iron predecessors.

Blomquist said that in its 1963 models, Chevrolet Division has completed this transition from iron to aluminum on all automatic transmissions. All other General Motors passenger car divisions, except Buick, have turned entirely to aluminum for their automatic transmission cases, he said. Buick uses aluminum automatic transmission cases throughout the Buick Special series, with or without its aluminum engine. The balance of its production remains cast iron. Cadillac was the first to use aluminum exclusively for automatic transmissions, followed by Oldsmobile and Pontiac, Blomquist said.

Of the 22 combined engine options for which automatic transmissions are available in Ford Motor Co. passenger cars, 16 are in aluminum cases, he said. For Chrysler Corp. Blomquist said, the new Imperial, New Yorker, 300, Newport and Dodge 880 have aluminum automatic transmission cases.

Similarly Ramblers have achieved a complete changeover from cast iron to aluminum automatic transmission cases in its six-cylinder cars, he said, and Studebaker has switched to aluminum die castings for the torque converter and automatic transmission housings used in its six-cylinder cars.

A similar near-industry-wide penetration for aluminum in 1963, he said, occurred with alternators having an average of two pounds of aluminum in their housings.

Blomquist said, "there are in '63 many significant new applications in trim, functional and structural areas."

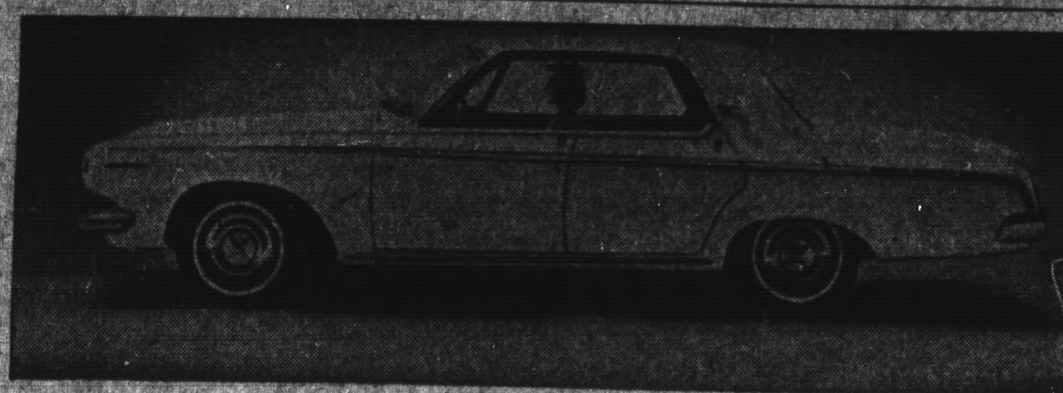

He listed: Disappearance of stainless steel from body side moldings of Ford Galaxies, replaced with aluminum moldings; use of aluminum for the exterior molding surrounding the back window of Ford Fairlane wagons and Ford's first use of internal aluminum trim for seat side shields in Galaxies, Mercury and Thunderbirds.

Other aluminum applications, he said, are Corvette's and Pontiac's cast aluminum wheels, extended use of aluminum hinges on Fisher bodies and increased use of aluminum brake drums by Buick and Continental.

Plymouth Sales At Near-Record Levels On The West Coast

Combined 1963 Plymouth and Valiant automobile sales are at near-record levels in the Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland regions, according to R. P. Gilbert, Chrysler-Plymouth division western area sales manager.

Chrysler-Plymouth dealers in the Los Angeles sales region for December, 1962, sold 82 per cent more Plymouth and Valiant automobiles than in December, 1961. For the same period, dealers sold 22 per cent more Chryslers and 17 per cent more Imperials. Total division sales for four nameplates, Plymouth, Valiant, Chrysler and Imperial for December, 1962, showed an increase of 61 per cent over December a year ago. The Los Angeles region includes Southern California, Arizona and Nevada.

1962 Chrysler-Plymouth Sales Were 45 Per Cent Ahead Of 1961

Chrysler-Plymouth division dealers closed out the calendar year of 1961 with a month of December which saw deliveries of 44,956 new cars, a pace 45 per cent greater than last year, according to C. E. Briggs, vice president, Chrysler Motors Corporation, and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth division.

According to Briggs, this was the best December since 1956. Leading was the Plymouth and Valiant with total new car deliveries of 32,592, a 64 per cent rise above December of last year, and the best December in the last five years.

Chrysler deliveries for the month totaled 10,550, and 11 per cent increase over last year, and the best December in the last seven years.

With 1,814 deliveries, Imperial was 16 per cent ahead of December, 1961, and recorded its best December since 1957.

For the ten day sales period ending December 31, deliveries for the division were 15,677, with Plymouth and Valiant accounting for 11,402 units, Chrysler, 3,653, and Imperial, 622.

For the calendar year 1961, Chrysler - Plymouth division dealers delivered 445,415 new Chrysler, Plymouth, Valiant and Imperial cars, a nine per cent increase over the previous year.

Chrysler sales for the calendar year 1961 were 117,849, a 23 per cent increase over the previous year and the best year for Chrysler since 1955.

For Imperial, sales were 14,347, a 20 per cent increase over 1961. Total Plymouth and Valiant sales were 313,219, up four per cent over last year.

In the months of October, November and December, Briggs noted, Plymouth-Valiant sales of 103,077 showed a 39 per cent increase over the comparable period of last year.

Chrysler, with 34,145 deliveries in the fourth quarter, was up 11 per cent over the comparable period of last year, and had the best fourth quarter since 1950. Imperial, with 5,203 deliveries, was up 13 per cent and marked the best fourth quarter since 1959.

Total sales for the division for the fourth quarter were 142,425, a 30 per cent increase over the previous year. This was the best fourth quarter for the division's cars since the comparable quarter of the record volume year of 1957.

Peninsula Blood Bank Boosted by United Air Lines

All company records were broken this month when United Air Lines employees contributed 466 pints of blood at the mobile unit of the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank.

Blood bank officials pointed out that because of the generosity of the employees of United Air Lines, there is always a full amount of blood at the Blood Bank during the Christmas holidays. The firm traditionally donates just before the Christmas season.

"This is one of the best examples of public relations and service to the community that we have seen," said U. S. Simonds, Jr., president of the Blood Bank. "United Air Lines was one of the first industries to start reserve credits," he said.

W. A. Diltz was chairman of the drive for the company. The purpose of the drive is to sign up ten per cent of the employees for the blood donations. The maintenance base depot contributed 354 pints. The service center contributed 112 pints after two visits for both shifts.

Rambler Retains Leadership

Rambler maintained its compact car production leadership during the 1962 calendar year as its output rose 22 per cent ahead of 1961. American Motors Corporation announced this week.

E. W. Bernitt, vice president of automotive operations, said 454,784 Ramblers were produced during the 12-month period, compared with 372,485 at the same time last year. December output totaled 45,035 Ramblers, a new record for the month, against the previous high of 43,688 in December a year ago, he said.

Rambler also set a new record for the fourth calendar quarter with 133,488 units, compared with 127,887 produced in the same quarter in 1961, the previous record.

Preliminary production figures indicate that 2,766,000 compact cars will have been produced during the 1962 calendar year, a 35 per cent increase over the 2,047,140 made last year.

"Compact car production during 1962 has taken about 40 per cent of overall passenger car output, compared with 37 per cent last year," Bernitt said. "We believe the steady growth of the compact car segment of the market will see an even larger increase in 1963."

To meet continuing high demand, Rambler production has been operating on a three-shift basis, Bernitt disclosed.

Flowering trees and shrubs are prima donnas of the spring garden. Such beauties as the saucer magnolia, forsythia, flowering quince, flowering crabapple and dogwood are the true symbols of spring and should be planted by all gardeners who wish to emphasize the change of seasons. These are all available for planting now during the bare-root season.

ABOUT BEARS AND FRESH CONCRETE
When most of us pour concrete and wait for it to set, all we usually have to worry about is a few local kids and a playful dog or two.

Not so the men who pour concrete highways through the hills of Michigan. They have to worry about bears. Recently a highway crew there returned to the job in the morning, found that a large and frolicsome bear had splashed and splattered his way across their newly poured highway, left his massive paw prints in the concrete of time.

During the week of January 14-19, San Francisco will be the scene of the 44th Annual Convention of the California-Nevada Association of Lions Clubs. With over 800 Lions Clubs and 38,000 members in the two States which is known as District Four of Lions International. The International Association has clubs in over 195 Countries and Geographical areas of the world and is the largest Service Club with approximately 625,000 members.

Lions Clubs have long been known for their many community service projects and have been closely associated with working for the blind, opening many blind and Recreational Centers. The Post War years have seen Lions International taking a leading role in International Relations through People programs. Operation Friendship is a Student Exchange Program whereby students from many lands have an opportunity to come to the United States and many of our American Boys and Girls have studied in foreign countries through the efforts of the Lions Clubs.

In San Francisco there are 13 Lions Clubs - The Downtown Lions Club, Marina Lions Club, North Beach Lions Club, Mission Lions Club, Sunset Lions, West of Twin Peaks, Geneva Excelsior Lions Club, Park Presidio, Park Gate, Potrero, Chinatown Lions Club and the South of Market Lions Club. These Lions approximately 1,000 strong are all members of the San Francisco Council of Lions Clubs which is the coordinating agency for the Lions Clubs in San Francisco.

The San Francisco Council of Lions is the Official Host of this 44th annual district convention, over 5,000 Lions, their wives and families are expected.

A full week of Activities has been planned, from golf and bowling tournaments, ladies fashion shows and tours. A star studied show at the War Memorial Opera House, and many civic luncheons and breakfasts. The official headquarters will be at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, where the business sessions of the organization will be held, culminated on Saturday by the key note address by Finis E. Davis, Past President of Lions International from Louisville, Kentucky.

The Convention Committee is comprised of members from each of the 13 Lions Clubs in San Francisco. The General Chairman is Frank L. Spadarella, President-Elect of the San Francisco Council of Lions Clubs and well known Restaurateur in San Francisco. He is the owner of Toto's Restaurant and Pizzeria in San Francisco and Daly City, and an active Business and Civic Leader for many years.

Man's Capacity for Physical Exertion Said Hereditary
Our capacity for physical exertion may be largely a matter of heredity, which is modified relatively little in the average person by disease or physical condition.

This was reported at a national conference on Exercise Fitness Tests at the UCLA Medical School.

A long-term study of the work capacity of the heart-lung system of a broad population sample has indicated that each person has a characteristic pattern that is modified little through the childhood years. Temporary decreases in capacity following illnesses and transitory increases as a result of vigorous physical fitness programs were noted, but they were relatively slight and did not affect the pattern significantly.

Another point brought out at the conference was the danger of marked exertion at high altitudes without an adaptation period. People generally appear to respond initially to high altitude with a marked increase in blood pressure of the lung circulation (pulmonary hypertension). The cardiovascular system appears to adjust in time in residents of high altitudes, but such adjustments may not occur in transients. Thus too much exertion can be dangerous for weekend skiers and hikers up from the 'lowlands.'

Much of the conference dealt with the use of physical fitness tests in diagnosis of heart and lung disease in children. It was agreed that such tests, which include the use of treadmills and stationary bicycles, should be improved and used more extensively.

The two-day conference was sponsored by the UCLA Department of Pediatrics and organized under the direction of Dr. Forrest Adams.

SAFE PASSING
That car in front of you may be going faster than you think, so be sure that there's plenty of open road ahead before you start to pass.

FRESH WATER
More than half of all the fresh water in the world lies within Canada.

FRANK SPADARELLA, owner of Toto's and Ida Spadarella, will be missing from their two restaurants during the week of January 14th.

Frank as general chairman and Ida as ladies hospitality chairman will be playing host to over 5,000 visiting Lions and their families when they hold their 44th annual district convention in San Francisco. Patrons of their two fine restaurants will attest to their abilities as host and hostess, and we are sure that the visiting delegates and their wives will be well cared for.

SHE FLIES THROUGH AIR WITH GREATEST OF EASE
Near Cambria last summer a young lady lost control of her sports car on a curve, shot over an embankment, left her seat as she passed the embankment, soared through the air, cleared the top of a 15 foot barn, came down on the other side, broke the top rail of a wooden fence, and landed on her back. Dead? No, reports the National Automobile Club. Just a few broken ribs.

For skeptics, the California Highway Patrol reports that there are four feet of heel marks on the metal roof of that barn and several startled but competent witnesses to attest to the story.

Don't Spend It—Yet

Information on the Administration's forthcoming tax program, leaked to the press in advance of the President's message to Congress on that subject, indicates a contemplated gross reduction of $8 to $10 billion in tax receipts, but to be offset by $3.5 billion of increased revenue that is now seeping through those so-called "loopholes."

Furthermore, it has been revealed that reductions are to prevail over all tax brackets, from the poor man's 20 percent to the millionaire's 91 percent and including the 52 percent corporate income tax. The avowed purpose is to stimulate business so as to relieve unemployment. But it is difficult to see how a cut of these overall proportions and spread so thin can offer significant relief in any quarter.

Speculation on the effects of a proposal yet to be presented are rather idle, of course. But it now seems plain that there will be strong resistance in Congress to tax-cutting without similar reductions in spending, especially when the fiscal year that ends next June 30 is expected to show a deficit of about $8 billion.

Rep. John Byrnes of Wisconsin, for one, has declared that if the President will cut non-emergency spending, taxes can be cut, too. And he is expected to have plenty of company in both houses among Congressmen and Senators who have been listening to constituents who are far more concerned about the welfare of this nation than in that of others on which we are wasting our substance or even in the prospects of colonizing the moon.

The thought of adding even a few more billions to the national debt of $300 billion is disturbing to those of us who are naive enough to cling to the idea that nations should pay their bills as well as people—and who remember enough history to recall that a score of once-great nations have perished because they didn't.

Nonconform...Non Fun

The way of the nonconformer never has been easy, and the plight of the exiled citizens of Tristan de Cunha emphasizes that fact. Tristan is a cold, barren rock of an island in the South Atlantic ocean. A goodly group of its inhabitants have for a number of years been living in a camp in England. However, instead of basking in the glories of the kingdom, the National Health Service, the islanders want to go back home.

They simply don't like working five days a week, or clocking in and out of factories. The benefits aren't worth it. At home they don't work at all as long as there's food in the kitchen. If they don't want to get up, they don't. There's no TV, no smog. Wanting to return to such a life may not be very progressive thinking, but to some people, caught in the rat race of keeping their status symbols up to those of the Joneses, it might not sound like such a bad idea.

town talk

By JACK WOOD

Daly City would indeed be popping if the Christen lands, Bayshore industrial lands and Broadmoor (the hole in the doughnut) were offered for annexation all at once.

Brisbane, a city almost going broke, has been offered a 15-square-mile choice piece of unincorporated Bayshore industrial real estate by the Southern Pacific.

Daly City officials have looked on with interest at informal offers from Bayshore officials to annex to Daly City. This is the unexpected fulfillment of Daly City's dream... a port on the bay... with possible eventual annexation of the Crocker lands.

It appears that Bayshore residents are running scared. They feel that they have everything to lose by the loss of their industrial properties, which pay far more taxes for service districts.

Bayshore City has offered to throw in with Daly City. But Daly City officials apparently want nothing to do with this unless they can also get the Bayshore industrial lands.

This appears reasonable, since the annexation of residential Bayshore City would be financially unsound for Daly City. This city would undoubtedly have to pay for improvements on Bayshore's service districts.

Attorney Thomas Bocci, representing the Bayshore City Citizens Association, which is pushing annexation to Daly City, said the annexation would add an excess of 13 million dollars in assessed valuation to Daly City. And would have the effect of lowering the per capita tax in Daly City by an estimated 20 percent.

Mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City feels that Daly City should logically have first chance at annexation of the Christen lands, recently purchased or development by the Suburban Realty Company of an Francisco. He feels that Daly City, with its minimum frontage requirements of 33 to 35 feet, could be more attractive to builders who can construct more homes per square foot.

Broadmoor remains unincorporated and appears to want to stay that way. Residents there seem to like the local police protection and sense of individuality of being a separate entity in the midst of a large city.

The taxes are somewhat lower there, however, overall area is not as improved as Daly City.

The View From .. Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

Night Patrol...

It is a very quiet night. The sergeant parks his radio car and decides that he has checked the beats sufficiently well. Now he will ride with various of his patrolmen and check on the men who are checking their beat.

He walks into the police station and speaks with the dispatcher. That man mutters into his microphone, and a beat patrolman is summoned to the station to pick up the sergeant.

The motorized officer arrives outside. The sergeant glances around at the inadequate station in disgust, then goes outside to the radio car.

The Beat...

The patrolman is new to this watch, and the sergeant notes that he patrols with care. They find nothing amiss on the beat. All is under control. All is peacefulness and boredom.

The officers begin to yawn. They begin to contemplate a cup of coffee. The sergeant begins to think of which beat patrolman he will visit next.

Lover's Lane...

The course of their patrol takes them to a place which qualifies as a "Lover's Lane." They cruise through the area and come upon a parked auto.

The auto is spotlighted. Two faces show in the beam, and there appears to be nothing amiss. There is no excess voyeurism in these officers; so long as there is no trouble and no law violation, they are fully prepared to drive on.

The patrolman comments: "That girl looks pretty young—I think she's a child. I'd better look."

The Look...

The sergeant yawns again. Out of habit, he covers his partner from a distance. It is cold outside of the radio car. It is all very routine.

Then—"Hey, Sarge, come here a minute, will you?"

The Sergeant approaches and stands away from his partner.

The patrolman speaks: "All right, now tell him."

The man behind the wheel of the auto speaks. "Honest, officers, these are my kids. I had an argument with the wife, and just drove up here to cool off, and I took the kids for a ride."

It is now that the officer notes a second child, a boy, in the back seat of the auto.

The Hot Interrogation...

The sergeant speaks: "Well, what are the kids' names?"

The man hesitates. Then the little girl's voice enters the conversation: "He's not our father. He took us out of our father's car. We don't even know him!"

"Come out of the car, you." The officers help the man from the auto. They are not gentle. The man is searched and handcuffed.

The Suspect...

"Now, what is it you would like to tell us?" "Okay, I'll tell you the truth. I'm a sex offender and I've been treated at Agnew. I live at home now—like an out-patient—and I was doing good until tonight. Then I started drinking, and I saw these kids in the car and just took them."

Follow Up...

The suspect is brought to the station and booked. He gives a statement and puts on a bit of a drunk act as a future alibi. The officers see drunks every day of their lives, though, and this thing is not drunk. He is an uncured, perverted kidnaper, and he will not get off on a simple drunk charge.

The Story...

It seems that the parents of the children parked in a tavern district to go into a restaurant to discuss business with the owner. They left the children in the unlocked family auto and were gone longer than they had anticipated.

The suspect saw the kids as he prowled the streets in his auto. He picked them up and put them in his auto. He told them that he was a friend of the father. He only wanted the girl, but she would not leave without her brother, so he took them both. He drove to the lover's lane and unbuttoned the girl's coat. Then the officers arrived.

The End...

The suspect is printed, mugged. He is lodged in a cell. The sergeant orders a close watch on the man—for he might attempt suicide in a fit of remorse, and it is the duty of the officers to keep the person alive.

At this point, a man and woman arrive at the station. They are mildly excited, and wish to lodge a complaint. It seems that their two children have strayed from their parked auto.

The children and parents identify each other and are reunited. The parents are inclined to be somewhat put out, as though the enormity of the thing does not get through to them.

They leave without saying "thank you." The kids say "goodbye."

top of the hill

By ARTEMUS BIERCE

Last week, the United States Congress decided that Berkeley radio station KPFA, an FM station with a very intellectual flavor, had overstepped its bounds in programming.

As a result, the boys from Washington organized a Senate Internal Security subcommittee and promptly issued the station a subpoena. The station is supposed to explain why it has left-leaning speakers, and also explain its political affiliations.

Ordinarily, this wouldn't concern us, but we can see other repercussions evolving from the Senate investigation. As a matter of fact, we are afraid that our favorite radio station, KCLOD, is in imminent danger.

Once the subcommittee descends upon dear old KCLOD, it will have little trouble uncovering subversive traits. For one thing, the station's offices and studios are on the West side of the Bay, but the tower is situated in the (I'm afraid to say it) EAST Bay. This already puts the station in a bad light.

Secondly, some of the commercials, if put under intense scrutiny, could reveal slight traits of subliminal red indoctrination.

For example, there is one cigar commercial in particular whose product bears the name of a small island off the coast of Florida which is known to be communistic.

And another commercial describes a shoe. Now shoes don't ordinarily connote subversion, but this one has a real subliminal message in its appeal. It is the same color shoe which Nikkie Khrushchev used to pound the table at the United Nations with several seasons back. Ghastly, isn't it?

And still another sponsor has a product imported from—I really can't say it—and his offices are on Russian Hill. Gosh-awful-terrible, I tell you if that committee looks in KCLODS direction.

But our real concern is for our favorite disc jockey, Friendly Freddy Fritters, and his program, "The Stomp-up Jubilee." Now, Friendly Fred was shot a couple of times in the last war and has trouble getting around. I once called in and asked Fred if he would like to go to war again and his answer was an emphatic "no."

So that sort of puts Freddy in the same category with the pacifists and everybody knows whose side the pacifists are really on.

But one thing about Freddy which might go in his favor: He doesn't play any of that highbrow concerto junk, nor does he expound on current affairs or keep the public informed.

Freddy plays nothing but pure unadulterated trash. And he doesn't air any opinions because he doesn't have any—but everybody knows that that is the best type of citizen.

Some of the fine platters which Freddy spins includes: "I (right) My Heart in Half Moon Bay," "Scalloped Potatoes, Yeh," "The Bircher's Burp," and "Midnight in Pottstown." This should all go towards his credit when the committee meets.

Anybody for the "Mao Tse Ting Twist?"

President Kennedy's Physical Fitness program could have its first lawsuit in the near future. Last Thursday, in compliance with the edict from the President, Assistant City Engineer Ed Dominion, engaged in a rough game of basketball with those bulky, athletic type fellows from the Recreation Department, broke a blood vessel in his foot and suffered considerable discomfort.

Which could point out two morals: Never listen to a president who plays touch football; or never play any type of games, Pinochle included, with those mean, old big guys from the Recreation Department.

David Stott Serves Aboard Destroyer

David W. Stott, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Stott of 658 El Camino, South San Francisco, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Rowan, part of the combined First Fleet force involved in Exercise Night Stick off the coast of California.

The exercise is anti-submarine and anti-air warfare techniques began December 10, and lasted five days.

Eighteen ships and several aircraft units were involved in Exercise Night Stick, which was coordinated by Vice Admiral R. T. S. Keith, commander First Fleet. The ships included aircraft carriers, a heavy cruiser, a nuclear submarine, 11 destroyers, a minesweeper and three auxiliary ships.

The exercise was aimed at maintaining the overall readiness of the units involved and to develop their preparedness for duty in the Western Pacific with the Seventh Fleet. The operation centered around a fast carrier striking force supported by an anti-submarine warfare group. They were opposed by aircraft and submarines. The aircraft used included jets and propeller-driven ranging in size up to medium bombers.

The Senator Reports Old-Age Research

Senator Clair Engle (D-Calif.) announced this week that Federal support for research on solving problems of the aged nearly doubled last year—from $16 million in 1961 to $30.5 million in 1962.

Senator Engle, a member of the Senate Special Committee on Aging, said that other improvements for the 60-plus age group last year were:

1.—An increase of more than $110 million a month in social security benefits to retired workers.

2.—Enactment of public welfare amendments and drug control legislation, both of which are of special benefit to older people.

Senator Engle said that older persons received increases last year which resulted from legislation passed in 1961.

As a result of the Community Health Services and Facilities Act of 1961, he said, Federal aid for construction on non-profit nursing homes and other facilities for the aged ill reached an all-time high of $38.5 million in 1962.

The legislation will make about 6,000 more beds available to persons needing such care.

Senator Engle said an additional $5 million went to state health departments for the development of out-of-hospital services for the aged and chronically ill. Two million dollars, he said, went to non-profit organizations for projects and studies to improve such services.

Senator Engle said Social Security Act amendments in 1961 gave widows a 10 percent increase in benefits last year. By lowering the possible retirement age for men to 62, the amendments brought monthly benefits to more than half a million men who were between 62 and 65. Some 87 percent of all persons whose 65th birthday fell in 1962 will be able to collect social security benefits when they retire.

Additional information on how the elderly fared in 1962 is presented in a year-end report being released by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Senator Engle said.

WHAT'S DOING

T. P. Coyne, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

Ever wonder how the Long Distance Operator takes down information when you place a call with her? She uses a special electrographic pencil to record the needed information on a printed card. With this method the operator can do it faster if you give her the information in this order: (1) Area code and number you're calling; (2) any special instructions; and (3), when she asks, your own number. This way it's possible to start your call right after step (1) and can save time in completing your operator handled calls.

Question: Is a telephone animal, vegetable or mineral? Answer: All three are contained in the materials from which telephones are made.

Today's high school science students have a wealth of interesting new things to learn about. For these future scientists, the Bell System has developed special teaching aids—kits of demonstration equipment, films and text by leading Bell Labs scientists. They bring to life subjects like wave behavior (shown here), magnetism and solar energy. These training aids are being used at both Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools here in Daly City.

The shortest distance between two friends is a telephone call.

Looks like this girl might be holding a pile of soft TV pillows. Actually, these are foamed-plastic shipping cases for delicate telephone parts. One carton weighs a mere 5 ounces, but it's rigid, moisture-proof, and strong enough to support a man's weight. Inside, it's specially molded so phone parts fit securely to protect them from shipping damage.

Broadmoor Presbyterian . . .

Founder's Son To Speak

Dr. James D. Glass, the minister son of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church's founding pastor, Rev. John Glass, will speak Monday night, January 21, at the Village Churchmen's monthly dinner meeting.

The visiting pastor is currently lecturing in Practical Theology and Field Work at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, taking a year's leave from an Associate Professorship of the same subject at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Glass is a graduate of Occidental College in 1946 and Yale University in 1950. Prior to his teaching assignment at Vanderbilt, he held pastorates in the Deak-Balch Larger Parish in Greenfield, Tennessee.

The Broadmoor church was founded by Glass' father in 1949, who held the ministry until February 5, 1947. Rev. William Harberts, formerly of Grace Presbyterian, Daly City, served as interim pastor until the present minister, Herbert Tweedie, was called in September, 1957. Originally named the Community Presbyterian Church of Broadmoor, the church was established on 87th street, Colma, in a temporary war-surplus building, located on a little knoll beside the road. John Glass pushed doorbells, gathered a congregation, and saw his church grow to the present three-story educational building and sanctuary. Rev. Glass is now retired from the ministry, and with his wife, Jessie, operates a private nursery school in Fair Oaks, California.

The annual congregational meeting of the Broadmoor Church was held last Thursday evening, at which time new elders, deacons and trustees were elected to administer the spiritual and corporate body of the church. Elected as elders were Floyd Hicks, Harold Hollenbeck, Jack Gobel, Hendrik, Yesselstein and Rod Barnes. New deacons are Shirley Pappas, Dorothy Edwards and Charlotte Spruiell. Rev. Tweedie announced that Henry Suederman, Boris Stephen and James Quibell were elected to the Board of Trustees. Elders, called Ruling Elders in the Presbyterian Church, oversee every phase of church activity, admit and dismiss members, and represent the church at Presbytery and Synod Meetings. The Lady Deacons at Broadmoor perform works in visitation, evangelism, welfare and relief, church and society, and fellowship. All social programs are under their titular administration. Trustees administer the corporate body of the church, handling the budget, the physical church plant, and the requirements of the law civil.

One of Broadmoor's trustees, P. Edward Smith, helped to erect a manger scene during the Christmas season.

Twin morning services are held at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church at 9:30 and 11 a.m., with Sunday school concurrent for all ages, and child care provided.

Temple Judea Sabbath Evening Services

Temple Judea will hold its regular Sabbath Evening Services Friday, January 18, at 8:30 p.m., at Temple Judea, 95 South Mayfair avenue, Daly City. Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter will officiate.

THE 44-VOICE COLLEGE OF Idaho Concert Choir from Caldwell, Idaho, will perform in San Francisco at the Lakeside Presbyterian Church at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, January 24.

Members of Temple Judea will attend the Annual Congregational Meeting, to be held this year on Thursday, January 17, at 8 p.m., at the Stonestown YMCA, 20th and Eucalyptus, San Francisco.

Idaho College Choir At Lakeside Presbyterian

The Lakeside Presbyterian Church will be host January 31 at 8:15 p.m. to the 44-voice College of Idaho concert touring choir from Caldwell.

The program is open to the public without charge. This choir, which is in its sixth annual tour of west coast cities, has been acclaimed by music critics as one of the top collegiate choral groups in the country. Conductor is Prof. Elmer Thomas.

The opening section of their program will include works by Leising, J. S. Bach, Lotti, Mozart, Bruckner and two spirituals, one arranged by Prof. Thomas and one by Trusler.

The second half of the concert will include two selections by Franz Schubert, a Palestinian Round, a round and a canon, two numbers by John Bennett, one by Orlando di Lasso, four of Johannes Brahms' Liebeslieder Walzer.

The program will conclude with four folk songs, "Johnny Has Gone for a Soldier," arranged by Robert Shaw, "Fair Maid," arranged by Prof. Thomas, "Deep River" arranged by Shaw and "Ride the Chariot" arranged by William Smith.

Intermission music will be provided by Prof. Walter Cerveny, former concert violinist and member of the C of I music department faculty. He will play "Sevilla" by Albeniz-Helfetz and "Consolation" by Liszt-Milstein.

Westlake Lutheran Women's Meeting

Westlake Lutheran Church Women will begin their New Year, 8 p.m. Tuesday, January 22 at the church, 222 Avalon drive, with new officers, a new program, and the first topic of a new Bible Study.

Officers for 1963 are: Mrs. Herb Kralling, president; Mrs. Kenneth Wechsler, vice president; Mrs. Lloyd Stoa, secretary; Mrs. Les Laing, treasurer; Mrs. Les Levig, education secretary; Mrs. Robert Hope Lutheran Ladies Install Guild Officers In its first monthly meeting of 1963, the Ladies' Guild of Hope Lutheran Church, 55 San Fernando way, Daly City, installed officers who are serving in the current year. In an impressive service before the altar of the church, Pastor Armin H. Polster installed the following officers: Evelyn Bizjak, president; Alene Maches, vice-president; Inge Hammerich, treasurer; Jan McDaniels, secretary; Beverly van Dyke, corresponding secretary.

During the installation ceremony, Pastor Polster stressed the privilege of service as officers of the Guild, the responsibilities of leadership and the importance of support by all members of the Guild in following this leadership.

Following the installation of officers, a business meeting was held in the council rooms of the church. One of the aims of the Guild, it was agreed, was to increase membership by getting all interested women of the congregation to become members during the current year.

A coffee-social concluded the meeting.

According to Gregor Ziemer, director of public education at the American Foundation for the Blind, the daily and weekly newspapers of the nation brought news of AFB operations to over 35,000,000 readers in 1962.

Guest soloist at the 11 a.m. Morning Worship Hour at Westlake Baptist Church, Sunday, January 13, will be Clay Friborg, a layman of South San Francisco.

The Pastor A. David Donnelly will speak on "What Does God Desire?" During the Morning Worship Hour, and preaching service, a nursery service is provided for infants and toddlers. The children four years to third grade will be dismissed to their own Primary Church service, conducted by one of the women of the church.

Nine Sunday Church School classes will convene at 9:45 a.m., with the opening exercises conducted by Alton Swedberg, superintendent. A special invitation is given to attend this Sunday.

The Youth groups, under the caption of Conference

Youth Fellowship, meet each Sunday evening at 6:15 p.m. Jet-Cadets is the program for the junior age boys and girls, and this program has been drawing a nice number of youth each Sunday evening.

Junior High CYF is starting a new series of programs from their Conference Youth Fellowship quarterly, and attention is also being given to ways to increase attendance Sunday evening by Sunday evening. Senior High Conference Youth Fellowship, Bob Rutkowski, counselor, is looking for new additions to their group. High School youths are looking for an opportunity of expressing themselves, and if enjoying fellowship with others, are invited to attend.

The Pastor speaks on "Messengers of Reconciliation" on Sunday evening at the Gospel Hour, 7 p.m., when his subject will be, "Propagation of the Message of Redemption." At this evening service the pastor will also give some highlights of the Annual Ministers Retreat, which was held January 14 to 16 at Arrow Pines, in San Bernardino County.

Tonight, January 16, Swedberg will be in charge of the Prayer Meeting and Bible Study Hour, which will meet at 111 Adrian avenue, South San Francisco.

Thursday morning, January 17, at 10 o'clock, the women of the church hold their weekly Bible Study Hour, with Mrs. Alton Swedberg, leader, at the home of Mrs. Clair Sturdevant, 111 Adrian Avenue, South San Francisco.

Saturday evening, January 19, young people from Westlake Baptist Church are reminded of the Youth for Christ Rally to be held at the War Memorial Auditorium, Van Ness and McAllister in San Francisco. The special speaker for this rally will be Richard Green of South Africa, a Youth for Christ Evangelist.

Monday evening, January 21, will be the monthly meeting of the teachers of the Sunday Church School of Westlake Baptist, at the home of Swedberg, 19 Creston Avenue, Daly City. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Westlake Baptist Church holds their Sunday services in the Auditorium of the Southwood School, Southwood Drive and Hill Streets in South San Francisco.

The church is affiliated with the Baptist General Conference.

Evangelists At Westlake Baptist Sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Walsh will be singing at the Westlake Community Baptist Church, Southgate and Elmwood streets, Sunday morning, January 20. For more than 15 years they have been singing in evangelistic meetings. In the past 10 years they have sung in nearly every state in America.

Both were born in Canada. After serving five years in the Army, in the South Pacific, Walsh felt the call of God for full-time christian work. Mrs. Walsh, the daughter of a colonel in the Salvation Army, had long desired to use her talent in church work. Immediately after the war they gave themselves to the U.S.O. program, traveling all over the land, entertaining in various hospitals.

Al and Ivy Walsh have been friends of Dr. and Mrs. H. Hansel Stembbridge, pastor of the Westlake Community Baptist Church, for many years. They have led in four special church programs in the churches served by Dr. Stembbridge.

Sunday morning services are at 9:30 a.m., Sunday school and morning worship service, 11 a.m. Evening vesper hour, 7 p.m.

Christian Science Lecture On Jan. 23

How to apply God's healing power to solve problems of everyday living will be discussed at a public lecture to be given in Daly City on Saturday, January 26, by Paul Stark Seeley of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Seeley, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will give a lecture on Christian Science entitled "The Origin and Power of Thought" at the Serra Theatre, 2710 Junipero Serra Blvd., Daly City, at eleven o'clock in the morning. Held under the auspices of Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, San Francisco, the lecture is free and the public is cordially invited to attend.

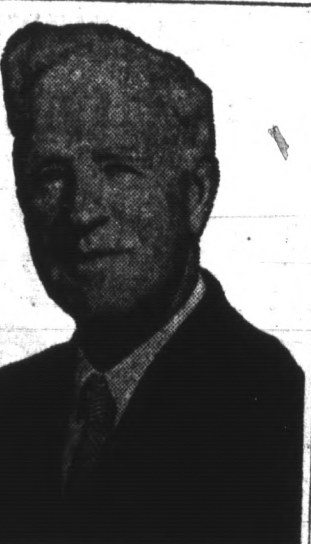

Mr. Seeley has been prominent in the Christian Science movement for many years. He has served as Associate Editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals, and as President of The Mother

St. Martin's Honors Boy Acolytes

The Rev. Richard Fowler, vicar of St. Martin's Episcopal Church, presented awards to the boys who served the church as acolytes during 1962, Sunday, January 13.

The boys who received awards were Trigg Davis, silver cross; Larry Baker, Chuck Cramer, Mike Kimberly, Ron Baker, Joe Downey and George Mitchell, white five-year ribbons; John Follan and Tom Olsen, red four-year ribbons; Richard Bernal, Mike Schmale and David Finn, purple three-year ribbons; Butch Bonavito, Kirk Ruebenson, Fred Walter, Jim Dorkin and Peter Schmale, special recognition awards.

The boys must serve one full year before receiving an award. The silver cross Davis received represented almost seven years of faithful service. The boys received a chrome cross with a black cord the first year. For each additional year, they were awarded a colored ribbon for their cross.
